Vitamins Not Taxable, H-P Investigation Reveals

BY JERRY KRIEGER
Farm & Features Editor

Vitamins sold over the counter without prescription are "food for home consumption," according to the Michigan Sales Tax division. As such, they are not subject to sales tax. Yet, possibly a majority of drug stores and pharmacies in Berrien and Van Buren counties, at least, charge sales tax on vitamin purchases. Under the constitutional amendment adopted by Michigan voters in 1975, sales tax was eliminated on medicine and on food intended for home consumption.

In the General Sales and Use Tax Rules and Regulations adopted to spell out specifically what is exempted, vitamins are exempted. They are listed among foods for home consumption. In a random survey of 10 drug stores and pharmacies in Berrien and Van Buren counties, seven stores reported they charge sales tax on nonprescription vitamins, under the impression they are taxable. Three stores said they do not collect the "Governor's four per cent" on vitamins. This apparent confusion was called to the attention of The Herald-Palladium by a citizen recently.

After the random check with stores showed there was a discrepancy, this newspaper checked with the Benton Harbor branch office of the State Treasurer's department. There, Richard Aardema said Rule 86 of the General Sales and Use Tax Rules and Regulations, dated November, 1976, specifically names vitamins among items that are exempt, as food for home consumption.

And Frank Maza, assistant administrator of the Sales and Use Tax division of the State Treasurer's office in Lansing, cited the same chapter and verse as exempting vitamins from sales tax. At least one druggist suggested the fact that vitamins are classified in the rules as food, rather than medicine, caused him to be unaware of the vitamin exemption. Another said he has never seen a copy of the state's rules and regulations, but has followed a general guide that indicated only that prescription vitamins are exempt.

STORM BRINGS TORNADO SCARE

Farm & Features Editor

A soft storm system that pushed across southwestern Michigan last night as August expired and September arrived led to the death of a Lawton motorcyclist and to a tornado alert for Van Buren and Allegan counties deep in the night.

The light storm also apparently put an end to a one-day heat wave that sent the mercury into the low 90s Wednesday afternoon.

Winston Feenstra, 20, Lawton, was killed shortly before 11 o'clock last night when his motorcycle slammed into a huge limb that had fallen onto County Road 689, two miles southwest of Lawton in Decatur township.

There were no particularly strong winds reported in the area prior to the accident, according to Paul Kaiser, engineer-manager of the Van Buren County Road Commission.

The National Weather Service sounded a tornado alert for Van Buren and Allegan counties at 2:25 a.m., when a funnel cloud was detected aloft over the area of South Haven, according to the Weather Service office in Grand Rapids. No tornado touched down in the alert area, but police agencies in Allegan reported a heavy thunderstorm passed across the county. No major damage was indicated. The alert was called off at 3 a.m. A twister did develop, however, in Iosco county in east central Michigan shortly after 6:30 p.m., about a mile east of Hale. Iosco county deputies said a house trailer, a garage, a barn and two automobiles were damaged and "hundreds" of trees uprooted, but no injuries were reported.

A running series of showers during the night and early today produced from .36 of an inch of rain at Paw Paw to .70 of an inch at Berrien Springs. Other reporting stations in the area showed intermediate amounts of rain.

The highest temperature reading in the area yesterday afternoon was 92 degrees, measured at the Paw Paw village public works depart-

The Weather Service forecast continuing showers or thunderstorms through tonight and Friday in southwestern Michigan. Temperatures were forecast to get into the low 80s Friday.

Boy Finds, Returns Wallet Lost In Lake

COLOMA — A South Haven doctor got his wallet back yesterday...three months after he dropped it into Little Paw Paw Lake. And Dr. Emmett D. Cosgrove told Coloma township police the wallet still contained the $31 in cash, driver's license and credit cards that were in it when he lost it during a boating trip in May. The wallet was found Saturday by 15-year-old Tim Flannery, 7070 Lake road, who was snorkeling about 30 feet off shore when he spotted it on the bottom. Tim, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Flannery, turned the wallet in the same day to township police. The department notified Dr. Cosgrove and returned it to him yesterday when he drove down from South Haven. Dr. Cosgrove also made a side trip out to Lake road to give Tim a $10 reward.

USSR Censured By World Psychiatrists

HONOLULU (AP) — The general assembly of the World Psychiatric Association today voted to censure the Soviet Union for alleged psychiatric abuses and to establish a committee to review such practices in any nation. On a vote of 90-38, late Wednesday night, local time, the WPA's governing body adopted an amended resolution by Great Britain's Royal College of Psychiatrists condemning "the systematic abuse of psychiatry for political purposes in the U.S.S.R." The General Assembly also voted 121-66 to approve a resolution put forth by the American Psychiatric Association.

Girl, Mother Reunited; Dad Is Held

By KATHRYN JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

ATLANTA (AP) — "Do you remember me?" a Michigan mother asked her 7-year-old daughter. They were reunited here Wednesday, nearly three years after the girl's father took her from her home state.

Blue-eyed, blonde Katherine Ray nodded shyly at the mother she had been told was dead, and smiled.

"Oh, you've lost some teeth," exclaimed Mrs. Dorothy New of Wayland, Mich., who has remarried since her former husband, James Robert Ray, left with Katherine during the Thanksgiving holidays in 1974.

Then, Mrs. New reached out for her only child and they hugged.

Ray, 29, of Lawrence, Mich., was arrested Tuesday at nearby Stone Mountain, Ga., where he was working as a welder. A warrant has been issued in Michigan charging Ray with kidnapping, said Detective A. H. Shelton of the Atlanta fugitive squad. He said Ray would be extradited to that state.

The warrant charging Ray with kidnapping a child under 14 years of age was issued Dec. 12, 1974, in Van Buren county, according to Asst. Prosecutor Juris Kaps.

"It's wonderful. I just can't believe it," said Mrs. New, sitting with her daughter in her lap. "When I first found out she was gone, I about went crazy."

Mrs. New, a plump woman wearing glasses, said after they got the call from the Atlanta police, they got in the car and drove all night to Georgia.

"We never gave up hope," said Mrs. New. "We'd hired a private detective and we drove to Florida and Atlanta on earlier trips. We found out he (Ray) got a Georgia driver's license and that's how Katherine was found."

Shelton said police tracked

Ray through Atlanta school records. He said Ray had enrolled Katherine in Atlanta schools for the past two years.

Officers who picked up Katherine said the apartment was unkempt and filled with broken furniture.

"She sometimes stayed with the Salvation Army," said Shelton. "When Ray was able to get a job, he took her with him."

Her mother thought she seemed well cared for.

She told Katherine her grandparents couldn't wait to see her.

"They still got their dogs?" asked Katherine, clad in jeans and a T-shirt. "Susie and Tenna?"

"The same dogs," her mother replied.

The family planned to rest a few hours and drive back to Michigan.

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A crucial agreement between the governor and a top Democrat to boost gasoline taxes by 2 cents per gallon and sharply increase license fees went under scrutiny by a special committee today.

The agreement between Gov. William Milliken and Rep. William Ryan, D-Detroit, who heads the special panel, was designed to raise $165 million for increased spending on transportation.

The reaction of the committee, which includes highway officials and representatives of oil companies, mass transit systems and other special interests, may be crucial to the plan's chances for approval by the legislature.

Support by the committee has been considered vital if a program is to be approved by the House and Senate. But the panel made little progress despite months of meetings.

Ryan said it is likely various groups will criticize the plan, since it doesn't meet any of their needs fully. "But it's a reasonable balancing of concerns," he said. "We have to have bipartisan and legislative-executive agreement on any tax plan."

The agreement, reached after several hours of discussion, would provide for more additional money for transportation than Milliken originally urged earlier this year.

When combined with $22.8 million in funding for state police highway patrols, it totals almost $188 million. Milliken's original proposal called for $145 million in new funding including $31 million to pay for the state police patrols.

Although it keeps Milliken's proposal to increase the gas tax and fund state police patrols, it drops his program to base license plate fees on a car's value, instead of the current basis of weight. But Ryan and Milliken agreed to continue to work for a value tax, which would provide steadily increasing revenues.

Specifically, the program calls for the following:

- $90 million from the two-cent gas tax increase.
- $5 million from a two-cent-a-gallon diesel fuel tax increase.
- $19.8 million from a 35 per cent increase in license plate fees for commercial vehicles.
- $29.8 million from a 30 per cent increase in plate fees for cars.
- $42 million from the state's general fund, equaling one-tenth of a per cent of the income tax.

That adds up to about $188 million. Subtracting the $22.8 million for state police patrols leaves about $165 million for new transit programs.

Under the Milliken-Ryan agreement, the money would be spent as follows:

- $46 million for county roads.
- $25.6 million for city streets.
- $34.1 million for state highways.
- $39 million for public transportation systems, airports and ports.

The governor and Ryan also agreed the Highway Commission should be renamed the Transportation Commission and its membership increased from four to six.

Auble Picked To Head Berrien County Action

The board of directors of Berrien County Action Inc. has voted to hire Lee Auble of Berrien Springs as executive director of the anti-poverty agency.

Auble, a former BCA board member, has been serving as acting executive director of the agency since February, according to Nora Jefferson, BCA board chairman. He will receive a salary of $15,000 as executive director, she said.

Mrs. Jefferson said Auble replaced John Harris who was dismissed by the BCA board in February because "he refused to carry out the directions of the board." Harris was hired a year ago to replace Helen Ford, who was also fired by the BCA board.

Auble was superintendent of Berrien Springs schools for 23 years. He and his wife live in Berrien Springs.

Auble is a former chairman of the Berrien county Republican committee. Since retiring as Berrien Springs superintendent, he served as interim administrator of Berrien Fifth District court.

Cuban, U.S. Offices Open

HAVANA (AP) — The United States and Cuba, separated by only 90 miles of water but 16 years of official hostility, are moving a step closer with the opening today of diplomatic "interest sections" in each other's capital. Official ceremonies are being held here and in Washington to mark the first posting of diplomats since President Eisenhower broke relations on Jan. 3, 1961. In the Cuban capital, Lyle Lane, a 31-year-old career diplomat, is occupying the U.S. ambassador's office but with the Swiss flag flying over the former embassy. Cuba's representative in Washington, Ramon Parodi, will have his office in the Czechoslovak embassy until the repairs to the Cuban embassy are finished.

Crime Control Act Exhibits An Odd Twist

Although Maryland Gov. Marvin Mandel is the highest ranking public official yet to be convicted under the 1970 Organized Crime Control Act, he is far from the only public official to be found guilty under its provisions. Because the law is unique in several ways, it has rapidly become a favorite tool of federal prosecutors in pursuit of white collar or political corruption cases.

First, the law's provisions are unusually broad. Instead of narrow definitions of specific crimes, the act permits prosecutors to establish a broad pattern of criminal activity — and permits them to introduce a wider variety of evidence into a trial than might be permitted under narrower statutes.

Second, combining mail fraud with racketeering convictions has been made easier by the act. Third, by requiring those convicted under the act to forfeit any illegally obtained property — in addition to providing for heavy penalties and jail sentences — the act carries a heavy financial clout against those convicted.

All of these factors were deliberately included in the 1970 law to make it easier to secure convictions for organized crime activities. Ironically, although some individuals have been of prominent cases have been directed — successfully — at public officials who used their offices for personal gain.

Question For Next Carter Press Conference

For some time reports have been filtering out that a number of the Americans held prisoner by the North Vietnamese and freed in 1973 told officials who debriefed them about beatings and other mistreatment by two Cubans during their imprisonment.

Those reports have all but been confirmed by the CIA which says it can identify the Cubans and reportedly has photographs of them. The beatings and other tortures reported by former POW Col. Leo K. Thorsness resulted in the death of one POW and severe injuries to others.

In itself, the assaults attributed to the Cubans is not surprising given the nature of the Castro regime. But there is more to the story. Thorsness and others also have said they were asked by American officials not to report the beatings by Cubans upon their return to American soil.

That places a new perspective on the matter. If true, and all the evidence so far is on the side of the prisoners, American officials responsible for such an order have some explaining to do. Why should not the American people have been told that their men were tortured by Cuban thugs while helpless in a Hanoi prison? That is an excellent question for the President's next news conference.

NYC Election Campaign Dull, Everyone Agrees

These may be the times and New York may be the place for dull elections. That, at least, is the consensus concerning New York City's Democratic primary for mayor, to be held on Thursday, Sept. 8. It's not that the seven candidates haven't tried. Mayor Abraham Beame has been galloping through the parks in a jogging suit, Bella Abzug has been dispensing her inexhaustible supply of dynamism while Rep. Edward I. Koch drives around in his "Kochmobile." New York Secretary of State Mario Cuomo has his picture taken with crooner Frank Sinatra. Manhattan Borough President Percy Sutton campaigns with Muhammad Ali. Joel Harnett, former president of the City Club, sports a "Harnett for Mayor" T-shirt and Rep. Herman Badillo tours the beaches preaching the gospel of free tuition at City University.

Differences in style cannot mask the similarity of views on the issues. All of the challengers have attacked Mayor Beame and, with only slight variations, endorsed the same programs that the incumbent is stressing. The dominant — some would say the only — issues are crime and the economy. The mayor cites figures on reductions in crime and increasing numbers of arrests; his opponents point to the looting during the power blackout this summer and pledge more and better police protection and improvements in the system of justice.

The seven Democratic contenders for mayor have proposed, as solutions to the city's fiscal problems, (1) more efficient and less costly municipal services, (2) greater reliance on the private sector for economic rejuvenation, and (3) additional help from Washington. Pie-in-the-sky rhetoric is virtually non-existent as each candidate tries to convince voters that he or she can get on with the job of beltingtightening without cutting more jobs, increasing taxes or inflicting added hardships on New Yorkers.

If no one candidate receives at least 40 per cent of the vote in the Sept. 8 primary, there will be a runoff between the two top vote-getters on Sept. 19. By the time the Republican candidate is chosen and the election finally takes place, New Yorkers are likely to be thoroughly saturated with city politics. Long before that, many may also indulge in a bit of nostalgia for the 1969 Democratic primary when writers Norman Mailer and his running mate, Jimmy Breslin, relieved the tedium by proposing, among other things, that New York City become the 51st state. Mailer and Breslin won only 5 per cent of the vote.

THANKS FROM BLOSSOMLAND ASSIST

Editor,
On behalf of Blossomland Assist we want you to know how grateful we are to you and The Herald-Palladium for the help you gave our group on "Operation Identification."

The use of The Herald-Palladium tent at the Berrien County youth fair was most appreciated. Mr. Bowie and other members of his staff at the fair were also most helpful.

The publicity from your paper also helped call attention to our Operation Identification as well as our second meeting. We did some engraving at the fair, but more important we handed out hundreds of pieces of literature and informed many people, who we hope will take advantage of it.

Thanks again for the big help on such a very short notice.

ENGINEER WAS 'ON CALL'

Editor,
Re: Paw Paw Lake Level Control Hearing — Our Project No. 77-57.

Thank you for your reporting of the Paw Paw Lake level control hearing before Judge Julian Hughes on Aug. 26, 1977.

I do wish to correct some misinformation given your writer by Carl Gnodtke regarding the fact that the engineer was late for the hearing.

The court record shows that the engineer was on call as a witness by the county prosecutor's office. Mr. John Bruha had contacted Michael J. Smith of our office at approximately 11:45 a.m. on Aug. 25, 1977 asking him to be on call for the 1:00 hearing. At 1:30 p.m. Mr. Bruha called and requested Mr. Smith's presence. Mr. Smith left our office and arrived at the county building at 1:55 p.m. The hearing commenced at 2:00 p.m. Mr. Gnodtke was not aware that Mr. Bruha had Mr. Smith on call.

We ask that this letter be filed for the record and, we wish to thank you again for your reporting of this matter.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL WAS 'SINGLED OUT'

Editor,
This letter is addressed to members of the St. Joseph board of education.

Dear School Board Members:
As concerned Washington school parents, taxpayers and residents of the "inner city," we must voice our objections to your recent decision regarding the elimination of four class sections from the Washington school.

How disappointing it is to find out only two weeks before school starts that our neighborhood children will be bused out to fill classes in other St. Joseph city schools.

You must be aware of the fact that many families in the "inner city" are committed to revitalizing their neighborhood. Homes have taken on fresh new appearances while renovation and restoration occurs throughout this area. A neighborhood school is very important in keeping this area alive. Once you begin eliminating classes, it seems only a matter of time before you will want to close the school, in spite of your denials. By giving the impression of an impending school closing, you will certainly hasten the decay of our area. Naturally this would not only be a great personal loss for all of us, but also a loss of tax dollars to the City of St. Joseph.

It is also quite disappointing to realize that some of our board members were ignorant of the Federal Title I funding Washington school receives.

The special programs made available with Title I funds allow the children from disadvantaged homes to acquire the skills the often lack in language arts. To bus any of these children out of this area and atmosphere can only do them an injustice. How discouraging it will be to be bused away from friends and siblings into the

The council urges all who can to fly the American flag in honor of this occasion, as it was also during this same week in 1945, the final signing of the peace document in World War II became official.

"So what if we had a little overdraft — Bert Lance did, too, didn't he?"

Martha Angle
Robert Walters

Bert Lance Is No Commoner

WASHINGTON — If there is a bottom line to the whole Bert Lance affair, it is that F. Scott Fitzgerald was right: The rich are indeed different from the poor and me.

That may not qualify as the century's most shocking disclosure, but it's not exactly the message which Jimmy Carter has tried so hard to convey about his administration.

It is a safe bet that precious few of the voters who cast their ballots for Jimmy Carter last year ever got away with the kind of financial hijinks that Budget Director Lance indulged in as a Georgia bank owner.

Most people who make a habit of kiting checks find themselves in hot water rather quickly. But not Bert Lance, whose campaign accounts while he was running for governor of Georgia were overdrawn as much as $152,000 between January and June of 1974 — without a nickel's penalty.

Just being related to Lance was good enough, in fact. His wife's account at one of his banks was overdrawn by $110,000 at one point, and nine of his relatives accumulated overdrafts "in the $200,000 to $450,000 range" during one seven-month period.

Borrowing huge sums of money was also a snap for banker Lance, who managed to wheedle millions of dollars in loans out of a whole slew of banks without putting up anything like full collateral.

There's nothing to it, apparently, if you own a bank yourself and can toss a little business in the direction of those lending you the money. Or if you are widely known to be a very close friend of the next president of the U.S.

The Comptroller of the Currency, after scrutinizing the record of Lance's conduct as a banker, concluded that none of the information uncovered "to date" warrants a criminal prosecution, although he carefully added that some allegations have yet to be thoroughly investigated. There are, for instance, still questions about Lance's personal and political uses of airplanes owned or leased by his old bank, the National Bank of Georgia. And questions about the purpose of, and payment for, at least five trips which Carter himself took in bank aircraft.

But never mind the fine print. Lance, Carter and the White House cheerleaders have chosen to view the comptroller's report as a vindication of the budget director. The president himself rushed to Lance's side, crying, "Bert, I'm proud of you!"

But don't count on major fireworks from Capitol Hill. The principal investigating panel is the Senate Governmental Affairs Committee, whose members tripped all over themselves in their haste to exonerate Lance of any wrongdoing — largely on the basis of his own denials.

These senators understand how the rich do business, as well they might. The committee members, after all, include a half dozen men who are either millionaires or close to it: Chairman Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn.; ranking Republican Charles H. Percy of Illinois, John Danforth, R-Mo., John Glenn, D-Ohio, Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and H. John Heinz III, R-Pa.

What Carter apparently refuses to recognize, to his own political peril, is that ordinary Americans may not be quite as understanding as the congressional fat cats, nor as legalistic as the comptroller of the currency.

Bert Lance may not be a crook, but he sure isn't a commoner either. And Carter, by effusively praising his old friend's "honesty ... competence ... integrity," appears to be condoning what many believed he previously deplored: separate standards of conduct for the rich and the poor.

Senator Pell Wrecks Agency

The National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) is a Federal agency that disburses some $100 million per year.

It supports both scholarly research and popular projects such as the televised "Adams Chronicles" and the immensely successful King Tut exhibition which is now touring the country. Without an emergency transfusion from the NEH, the New York Public Library, a unique and valuable institution, would now be at best a cripple.

From 1971 through early 1977, the chairman at NEH was Dr. Ronald Berman, a Shakespeare scholar of national repute and a superb administrator.

I myself, as a member of the National Council of the Endowment — in effect a trustee, with a six-year term — observed at close hand the skillful and non-partisan way in which Berman exercised his responsibilities.

Unfortunately, Berman ran afoul of Sen. Claiborne Pell of R.I., who appeared to be devoting most of his energies during the year 1978 to blocking Berman's reappointment. In the end, he succeeded in doing so, on a party-line vote that most people close to the picture considered a disgrace.

Sen. Pell's goal was to turn the National Endowment into a political pork barrel. Instead of competing for grants on a national basis and on grounds of merit, applicants would be funded by state committees appointed by the governor. Federal funds would be handed to these committees in the form of bloc grants. Opposition to this rip-off was repeatedly characterized by Pell as "elitist."

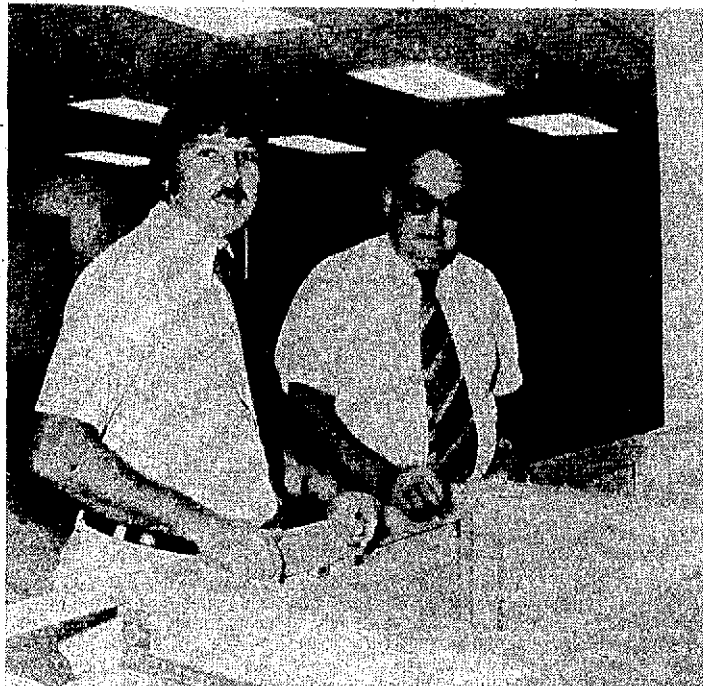

Many members of the highly talented staff at the Endowment, fearing the worst, have begun to look for jobs elsewhere.

My own uneasy suspicion is that Duffey will use his new post, if he is confirmed, to try to re-enter Connecticut politics.

State Okays Peoples Bank Branch

Peoples State bank of St. Joseph has received state approval to establish a branch at the northwest corner of Napier and Downing avenues across from the proposed Pipestone mall, Benton township.

Announcement was made by Richard L. Schanze, president of Peoples State, who said the approval was granted by the Financial Institutions Bureau of the Michigan Department of Commerce and means Peoples State can proceed with opening the branch.

Schanze said plans for a permanent office have not been completed, but Peoples State "will be operating from a temporary facility in the near future."

Four other area banks have applied for branches in the immediate vicinity of Pipestone Mall shopping center and Peoples State is the first to announce approval.

The Peoples State location also is close to Fairplain Plaza.

Schanze said: "In addition to its growth record, the fast developing plans for its future make this area an excellent location for an additional banking office. We plan to provide a much needed service to the many individuals and businesses who are located in or find it convenient to be in the area."

Peoples State presently has three offices in St. Joseph and one in Scitdale.

Silver Beach Rezoning Foes Organize In St. Joe

By MIKE WYNGARDEN
Staff Writer

A group of St. Joseph residents living in the Silver Beach area have formed an organization to protest a proposed zoning ordinance that would put their homes in a water recreational district.

Some 55 people attended the first meeting of the new St. Joseph Beach Area association last night at the Maul Palowski Memorial library in St. Joseph. Under the water recreational zoning proposed for the Silver Beach area north of Park street, the homes in that six-block area would become nonconforming and subject to restrictions on expanding or rebuilding.

The proposed ordinance would allow single-family homes to expand or rebuild only if a special use permit is approved by the city planning commission and city commission. Two-family homes would not be permitted to expand or rebuild.

Also affected by the proposed ordinance are four industries in the Silver Beach area which would also become nonconforming under the proposed water recreational district and as such, would not be permitted to expand or rebuild. Owners of the industrial properties also are objecting.

The city planning commission is scheduled to consider the water recreational district issue at its meeting this afternoon. The city commission sent the proposed ordinance back to the planners for further study after about 75 people attended a commission meeting Aug. 1 to protest it.

Several city commissioners have said they feel single-family homes in the Silver Beach area should be allowed to make improvements. Commissioners Joseph Hunley and William Gillespie made the statements at the Aug. 1 city commission meeting.

Planners arguing in favor of the water recreational district have said the Silver Beach area is so unique with its beach and river frontage that it should be reserved for some type of major recreational development such as a restaurant, hotel complex, or convention hall.

"We're not opposed to developments along the beach or river," Dorothy Petersen, vice president of the St. Joseph Beach Area association, said last night. "We just want to maintain our residential neighborhood."

Most of the 55 people present at the meeting last night said they planned to attend the Sept. 12 city commission meeting, when city commissioners are scheduled to reconsider the proposed zoning ordinance.

The group also agreed to hold monthly meetings concerning issues that could affect their area. "We should not just be concerned with zoning on paper, but with the quality of our neighborhood as well," Caroline Crowner, president of the association, said last night.

Other officers of the new organization are Hal Trowe, secretary, and Rita Halberstadt, treasurer.

Other issues the association expects to address are a request to city hall to inform the association of any proposals for development in the area and the uniform enforcement of housing codes in the Silver Beach area.

Purse Taken From Teacher At School

Two boys, ages 15 and 16, were arrested yesterday by Benton township police on charges of strong-armed robbery — snatching a purse from a teacher at Bart school.

Patrolmen Jim Windsor and Jim Calhoun said Vivian Cardelli, 31, a Benton Harbor Area schools reading teacher, told them her purse was snatched as she was placing it on a desk in an office of the school at 1212 East Main street.

The officers said the teacher gave this account:

Two boys entered the school office Wednesday morning and asked for drinks of water at a fountain. They left one of them returned in a few minutes and snatched her purse. She was unable to catch the thief but grabbed his companion outside. This boy broke free and also fled.

Police said two boys were arrested later at Union Street and East Napier avenue. Officers said Mrs. Cardelli's purse containing $28 was recovered.

The 16-year-old boy was lodged at the Berrien juvenile center and the other boy was released to his parents pending petitioning to juvenile court.

CROCUSES BLOOMING: Lura Boyer, 22, of 2116 South M-139, Benton township, was mowing her lawn this week when she noticed these half dozen crocuses blooming in garden. Crocuses normally bloom early in the spring, even when snow is on the ground. (Staff photo)

SJ Public Schools Will Open Sept. 8

St. Joseph public schools' opening day for all pupils is Thursday, Sept. 8, a full day of school for students, according to Supt. Burton Aldrich.

The schedule at senior high will be the same as last year. The school day for pupils begins at 8 a.m. and ends at 2:40 p.m.

Junior high school pupils begin at 8:25 a.m. and end at 3:08 p.m.

Elementary school pupils should report at 8:45 a.m. Their day will end about 3:30 p.m.

Times of beginning and ending for the six elementary schools will be modified as bus routes are finalized. Due to cuts in secretarial time, telephone calls at the elementary school offices will be answered from 8:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.

Bus schedules for 1977-78 will be similar to last year. Buses will start morning runs at 7:15 a.m. for high school students, 8 a.m. for junior high school students, and 8:15 a.m. for elementary school students. A complete bus schedule will be published Tuesday, Sept. 6 in The Herald-Palladium.

The school lunch program will start Sept. 8, and lunches will be available for pupils then. Costs will be the same as last year — 40 cents for elementary pupils, 45 cent for junior high pupils, and 45 cents for senior high students. First collection date for lunch tickets will be Sept. 8. Kindergarten milk will be $4.50 a semester.

The school calendar provides a Christmas recess from the close of school Friday, Dec. 23 until Monday morning, Jan. 9. The first semester ends Jan. 20. Spring recess begins at the close of the school day Friday, April 7, and school reconvenes Monday, April 17.

Baccalaureate is set for Sunday, June 11, and commencement exercises will take place Thursday, June 15, which also is the last day of school for students.

Parents of students new to the St. Joseph school district are urged to contact one of the school principals in order to receive enrollment information and to make out schedules for junior and senior high students.

MYRNA TRAPP: Mr. and Mrs. Robert (Myrna) Trapp moved to Baroda from Malta, Ill., their second move, when he came to work at Heath company, St. Joseph. Myrna who has a degree in horticulture, has a home flourishing with plants. The plant she is watering is a split-leaf philodendron.

ANNE SAYAN: Mr. and Mrs. Paul (Anne) Sayan and son, Brian, 2½, moved to Benton Harbor from Winston-Salem, N.C., their third move. He works at Riverwood Community Mental Health center in St. Joseph, and she teaches weaving at the St. Joseph Art Center.

PEG MORSE: Mr. and Mrs. Dale (Peg) Morse came to Stevensville from Royal Oak, their fifth move. He is employed by the Michigan Department of State Highways. Kneeling with the dog, Boots, is Doug, 8, and with their mother is Susan, 9. The latter was in the Canamer games swimming competition this summer.

CLARE SCALES: Mr. and Mrs. Steven (Clare) Scales reside in Stevensville after moving to the area from Greenwood, Ind., their second move. He is a city manager for H & R Block. The Scales have three children, Stevie, 11, Candy, 9, and Amy, 4, who is helping Mrs. Scales hang a picture.

Twin Cities Newcomers Club Offers Welcome

SAUNDRA GARWOOD: Mr. and Mrs. Dale (Sandra) Garwood who live in Benton Harbor moved to the area from LaPorte, Ind. He is employed at Whirlpool's administration center, Benton Harbor, and she is attending Twin City Beauty College. Their move to Benton Harbor was the first for the couple. With them is their son, Joey, 16 months. Mrs. Garwood will be a caller for Twin Cities Area Newcomers club this year.

Move Without Plants? Never!

"Move without my plants? Never."

This sentiment is becoming more prevalent among owners of house plants who are moving long distances.

Some experts may recommend that you dispose of your plants and start the collection again at your new home. But like most plant owners, you might balk at the thought of relinquishing your plants to the trash or selling them to a stranger who may have a hungry puppy waiting at home.

But one plant-lover's often overlooked is that most van lines will refuse to move plants. Those that do transport them won't accept responsibility for their condition upon arrival.

If you have a number of plants to be relocated, it's best to use a do-it-yourself moving method, such as a rental truck or trailer. Then you can give your plants the personal care they may need during the trip.

If you plan to travel through Arizona, California or Florida, you should know that these places won't allow your plants to cross their state lines. They maintain border stations that are designed to keep out insects that could spread and infest crops.

To learn about any restrictions you might encounter while transporting plants, write to each state's department of agriculture.

In some cases, you may be able to arrange in advance for your county inspector to examine each plant and write a certificate of inspection for it. This will facilitate any border stops you make and will probably not cost anything.

Once you have established that it is all right to transport your plants without fear of confiscation, follow these steps:

First, thoroughly water your plants, allowing excess water to drain. Next, wrap the most delicate plants and those with breakable pots in newspaper for protection. Roll the paper around the pot and plant, forming a sort of sleeve.

If you are moving during extremely cold weather, you may wish to completely cover some fragile plants with newspaper, stapling the paper at the top. This will serve as insulation.

When loading your plants, it's a good idea to place them in some kind of container to keep them from shifting. A ladder or bookcase placed horizontally on the floor will do the trick.

For additional protection, cushion the pots with blankets or rugs. When loading your truck or trailer, place plants where they can be checked often.

According to florists, plants that are moved can experience a condition resembling a state of shock. To lessen the effects of shock, given each plant a dose of vitamin B1 upon arriving at your destination.

Vitamin B1 is sold in liquid form in nurseries.

When plants are in transit, the don'ts are as important as the do's. Don't repot any plants just before you move, or it will add to the overall trauma of adjusting to a new location.

Don't expose your plants to freezing temperatures if you can help it. In fact, plants don't like temperatures around them to dip below sixty-five degrees.

That is why it is especially important to insulate them with newspaper during cold weather. Don't expect your plants to pass a border inspection if they have been potted in garden soil instead of sterilized nursery soil. Garden soil carries minute pests that the state would prefer to keep out of its crops.

Finally, don't expect your plants to react favorably if you are moving to a place where they will be exposed to gas heat for the first time. They won't like it, and it may take a while for them to adjust.

Expect some changes in your plants when you arrive at your new home. For example, some loss of leaves is normal.

Plants may also experience what is known as tip burning, in which the edges of leaves turn brown. This is caused by a lack of light, the heat in the vehicle they are transported in, or a lack of water.

Don't expect your plants to spring right back into their former shape — it may be as long as a month before they adjust to the new environment.

You can expect to lose a few plants. Some of the more sensitive ones just won't make it. But the hardier ones should be able to adapt.

And most plant owners would agree that they would rather end up saving a few plants than put them all in the trash can before the journey starts.

One family in six will change its place of residence this year and the average American can expect to move at least 14 times in a lifetime. Only Australians and Canadians have higher mobility rates.

All these moves add up to excitement, anticipation, and happiness — at least in theory. In fact, moving day is frequently marked by frustration, headaches, fear, and unexpected expense.

Fitting into the new community and how to go about it, is one question facing moving families.

Here in the twin cities area the Twin Cities Area Newcomers club is an organization which helps to supply many of the answers.

Membership eligibility is only for three years but by that time, most members have found a place in the community through introduction to activities and other organizations in the area, according to Mrs. Tim (Lynn) Hayes, president of the club.

The club has two regular meetings each month for the entire organization and many individual action units which provide an opportunity for newcomers to meet others who are also looking for new friends and an opportunity to become acquainted with the community. Special activities which members may choose for their own interests include a variety of bridge groups both for members and for couples; arts and crafts, bowling, creative performance, volleyball, and various discussion groups.

Also included is a postpainter group which paints windows in the pediatric wards of the local hospitals.

Members are kept in touch with what is going on in the club through a monthly newsletter which also from time to time informs them of other community activities in which they take part. Special parties and programs also involve the husbands and children of members.

Sign-Up Night

Newcomers to the area are invited to attend the annual sign-up night when Twin Cities Area Newcomers will welcome those who have moved to the community recently.

The event will be held Monday, Sept. 12, at 7:30 p.m. at First Congregational United Church of Christ in St. Joseph.

Heads AD 2 Phoenix

Susan Kay Broome, formerly of St. Joseph, has been elected president of AD 2 in Phoenix, Ariz.

AD 2 Phoenix, a professional organization affiliated with the American Advertising Federation (AAF), is open to people under 31 employed in advertising and related fields.

The goals of the non-profit organization are to provide community public service and education by undertaking public service advertising and public relations campaigns for worthwhile non-profit organizations.

Mrs. Broome, a graduate of St. Joseph high school, received a bachelor of science degree in advertising from Michigan State university. She is employed as a media buyer and account coordinator for the Phoenix office of Bazzell & Jacobs, Inc., a national advertising agency.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schalon of Grand Haven, formerly of St. Joseph. Mrs. Broome and her husband, Jack, reside in Phoenix.

Of the 55 AD 2 Phoenix members, many represent the local media, advertising agencies, suppliers and corporations.

At a national AAF convention in June, AD 2 Phoenix was

Wedding

Patricia Merle Tuchman and Patrick J. Sullivan exchanged nuptial vows in a garden wedding Aug. 14 at the home of the bride's father, Nathaniel S. Tuchman, 1545 Colymbus avenue, Benton Harbor. Rabbi Joseph Schwarz, rabbi emeritus of Temple B'Nai Shalom, Benton Harbor, performed the ceremony.

The bride is also the daughter of the late Mrs. Tuchman. Parents of the groom are Mrs. Walter Sullivan of Hibbing, Minn., and the late Mr. Sullivan.

The bride wore an ivory cotton lace over satin gown which her mother wore for their silver anniversary. A cotton lace fitted headpiece held her lace edged elbow length veil and she carried daisies.

Miss Cheryl Tuchman, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Nikki Tuchman was flower girl.

Serving as best man was Kenneth Gordon. Ushers were Duke Tuchman and Christopher Pace.

A garden reception followed. The couple is making their home near Portage, Ind.

The bride is a graduate of Michigan State university and is employed at Nathaniel S. Tuchman, Accountants, St. Joseph. Her husband attended Hibbing Junior college and University of Minnesota. He is employed as a systems engineer at Informatics, Inc., Des Plaines, Ill.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Rape Or Self Defense?

Dear Ann Landers: Quite some time ago you said in your column it would not be possible for a woman to rape a man for "biological reasons" — or something like that. (Sorry I didn't save the clipping.)

Well, I just read where the police in Dallas are looking for two "neatly dressed, foul-mouthed females" who did exactly what you said could not be done.

A police department spokesman said the victim was a 37-year-old accountant who was working late in his office one evening. These middle-aged women knocked on his door, said their car had broken down and asked if they could use his telephone.

When he let them in his office one of the women pulled a gun. They then shoved him out the door to a nearby parking lot where they forced him to have sex with them. At first he resisted, but decided to cooperate when one of the women struck him over the head with a pistol.

After they finished with him they warned that he would be killed if he mentioned the incident to anyone. They then drove off in a ten-year-old, cream-colored sedan.

Now what do you have to say about that, Ann Landers? — A Person With A Good Memory

Dear Person: Apparently the accountant felt his life was at stake and figured he'd better rise to the occasion.

Sour Divorce

Dear Ann Landers: That column concerning the man quoting the ideals of fatherhood struck a nerve.

I, too, am a father who had great plans for my children, but it seems as though I will not be able to carry them out because I am the victim of a sour divorce and a judge who thinks all kids are "better off with their mother."

Three court-appointed agencies judged me fit to raise my children alone. The judge, however, did not think so. Now I am forced to take a sideline seat while my ex-wife and my children are living with her lover.

I know you are going to say "get another lawyer," but I'm not a high-paid businessman, and it's going to take two years for me to pay the one I had.

I sought help from my minister. All he could say was, "You're not the only one with the problem but you can't fight city hall."

I probably can't fight city hall, but I can ask you to print this letter so perhaps some other judge might think twice before he sentences other children to this same fate. Incidentally, my children are just as unhappy as I am.

A lot is written about the mother who has to go it alone because she has been deserted or the husband isn't interested enough to keep up his responsibilities. How about the father who works hard to keep up his support payments and spends as much time as possible with his children, but is forced to accept the fact that his children have to watch their mother live with another man without benefit of marriage? — Weekend Father

Dear Dad: Here's your letter and I hope thousands of judges see it and remember you when they make future decisions.

A no-nonsense approach to how to deal with life's most difficult and most rewarding arrangement, Ann Landers' booklet, "Marriage — What to Expect," will prepare you far better or for worse. Send your request to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1985, Chicago, Ill. 60611, enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The student knew he had overbid, but was delighted with dummy. He won the first trick with his ace of spades over East's 10 and promptly played his king and queen of clubs. He had planned to claim if both opponents followed, but East showed out and the student had a problem. Where was the 13th trick to come from?

When the student remembered that the Professor had told him that any time he could count 12 tricks the 13th might come on a squeeze. The Professor would have spread his hand at this point and claimed. Only East could stop spades; only West could stop clubs. No one would be able to hang on to both protection.

The student didn't know this, but he worked the squeeze anyway. He cashed his king-queen-jack of diamonds, untricked dummy with the king of spades and led the ace-jack of clubs while discarding two hearts.

Then came the pressure. He led the ace of diamonds. East had to chuck a heart to retain a high spade. The student now drew his nine of spades. It had been his work. West had to untrick the queen of hearts to keep the 10 of clubs and the student's hearts were good for the last three tricks.

Ask the Jacobys

A California declarer led a spade from dummy when in his own hand. His opponents took him to lead a lead a spade from his hand. His question: "Do I have to play the same spade from dummy?"

No, he doesn't. He must lead a spade from his hand, but can change the card played from dummy.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — What are potent lecithin capsules good for? Will they help to lose weight? What are B-One-Hundred a Balanced B-Complex Formula for? I need to lose weight but would like to know about these medicines.

DEAR READER — I'm tempted to reply they are "good for nothing." Vitamins do not help you lose weight. The only value in any vitamin preparations such as these while trying to lose weight would be for the individual on an unhealthy fat diet that doesn't provide all the needed vitamins you should get from a well-balanced diet.

Lecithin is not really a vitamin. It is a combination of fat and choline. The choline is useful but you should get that from meat which should be part of your well-balanced diet or your body can manufacture it from the methionine found in your normal diet.

Many people seem to have the mistaken idea that you can take something and lose weight rather than going through the process of using more calories than you consume. About the only things you can take to lose weight are laxatives and water pills to dehydrate you. Neither help to lose fat unless you make yourself so sick from a chemical imbalance of your body that you need to work your metabolic system overtime to get back your health. Emptying out the digestive system or dehydrating your body will show loss of weight on the scales but it won't be loss of fat. That is why it comes right back when you return to normal living.

Your letter sounds like you need help. I am sending you The Health Letter number 4-7, Weight Losing Diet to provide a sensible program you can follow to lose weight without damaging your health. Others who want this program can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. It won't enable any miracles, like being able to eat all you want and lose weight at the same time but it will work if you stick with the program over a period of time.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My husband and I are in our mid 50s. We have an exercise bike that we ride at least five miles a day at a speed of 18 to 21 miles an hour. Is this form of exercise beneficial to us? Is it worth continuing? We are both in excellent health and have never experienced any kind of heart ailments or circulation problems.

DEAR READER — As long as you are in good health and have achieved the level of fitness to do this regularly it should not harm you and may help a great deal. The additional requirement, though, is that you be consistent. Don't stop for weeks and then resume the same level of exercising. Stay with it and if you have to stop for any reason, start at a lower level and gradually retrain to the daily level you are able to maintain.

Exercise bicycles and those for outdoor cycling both provide a means of exercising without over-stressing the ankle and knee joints. The bicycle supports your weight and helps protect your joints while exercising.

The exercise — done daily — will help to prevent obesity. If you stop exercising and continue to eat the same amount you may gain from 10 to 20 pounds of excess fat in the first year. Just in helping prevent obesity it is worthwhile.

(Dr. Lamb answers representative letters of general interest in his column.)

Grapes Easy On Figure

Table grapes are available during every season of the year. And crisp grapes are kind to the figure — a whole cupful provides only a modest 100 calories.

So, think about them next time you reach for candy, cookies, popcorn or potato chips. With table grapes, you get a lot more for a lot less.

New Dishwasher

Portable Model

Whirlpool Corporation has introduced a new portable dishwasher — model SDF7800.

This new portable is featured with a super scour cycle with automatic water temperature control to help scour away most stubborn baked-on foods; super wash with two vigorous washes each followed by two rinses; rinse-hold in quick rinse now for washing later; and an energy-saving short cycle for normally soiled dishes.

Energy-saving dry selector pushbuttons offer the choice of using normal heater-induced drying or allows the use to shut off the heater and let the dishes air dry.

A reversible solid wood work top with a juice ring for carving convenience highlights the appearance of this model. The interior is featured with an adjustable upper rack, fold-down divider in the lower rack, high-side racks for extra stability and protection for dishes and exclusive in-the-door cutlery and silverware baskets.

Two full-size revolving spray arms with a jet stream column provide the right combination of water volume and pressure for thorough washability.

For durability, the interior features a porcelain-enamel tub with special door liner. Dual detergent dispensers and a rinse conditioner dispenser are molded into the door. A convenient water flow valve allows the use of the sink faucet while dishwasher is operating and electric cord and fill-drain hoses are contained in recessed compartments in the rear of the unit when not in use.

The portable unit may be permanently installed with the use of an optional conversion kit and is available in white, almond, avocado, and harvest gold.

FROM WHIRLPOOL: Whirlpool convertible-portable dishwasher model SDF7800 features four automatic cycles, energy-saving dry selector pushbuttons, in-the-door silverware and cutlery baskets, and a reversible solid wood worktop with juice ring for convenient carving.

Your Birthday

Sept. 2, 1977

Even though it may not appear possible at present, you should initiate plans for a long trip you'd like to take this coming year. It may come about unexpectedly.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Snap judgments could prove very misleading today. Take the time to size things up before arriving at any conclusions. Like to find out more of what lies ahead for you? Send for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter by mailing 50 cents for each and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify your birth sign.

LIRKA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Don't let price be the lowest common denominator if you're shopping today. Sometimes paying more is the most economical way to save.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Steer clear of crafty individuals if you're trying to drive a bargain today. Deal only with those you know to be trustworthy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Don't anticipate filling anything with the patent office today, because your ideas for time- and labor-saving devices aren't too super.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Take care today not to do something thoughtlessly that makes a new friend feel good at the expense of an old pal. There's no need to offend either.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Your mate's view may be sounder than yours in a matter affecting the whole family. It would probably be wise to espouse his ideas.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Analyze carefully the pitch tossed at you by an aggressive sales type today. Only a portion of it may be valid.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) In business matters, don't operate by gut instinct or attempt things that are too far out. Your best chances lie through the practical approach.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) When dealing with pals on a one-to-one basis today, don't look to get back as much as you give. Till things in the other person's favor.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You can be easily manipulated today. An errand associate could create problems for you. Prevent this — follow the dictates of your own conscience.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Try not to read more into others' words or actions today than they really intended. You're a shade on the sensitive side — so save yourself some heartaches.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Your best performance today will come in areas where you feel you can realize a material reward. Money is a particularly good motivator.

FIVE YEARS BEFORE RECALL Ford Knew Of Fan Peril?

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. engineers knew of a serious safety hazard on 424,000 1972 model cars for five years before the automaker finally recalled them, according to a Detroit newspaper.

In a copyrighted article in Thursday's editions, the Detroit Free Press quoted John Eckhold, director of Ford's automotive safety office, as saying:

"We made a mistake. It was a serious error in judgment."

The safety hazard involved engine cooling fans on 1972 Ford Turinos, Mercury Montegos and Lincolns which have air conditioning and 302-, 351- or 402-cubic-inch engines.

Ford announced the recall on June 3, after the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration launched an investigation.

By that time, the newspaper said, "broken fan blades from those cars had killed one person and injured 11 others."

It said 25-year-old Roger Keyes of Detroit was injured fatally last May 23 while working under the hood of a 1972 Torino at a service garage when a fan blade tore loose and slashed his neck and chest.

Among the 11 other injuries reported were the loss of an eye, a fractured skull, a broken jaw and the loss of teeth. Plastic surgery was required on some victims to hide deep facial scars, the newspaper said.

In addition, according to Ford records, fan blade failures caused under-the-hood damage to hundreds of vehicles, causing damage up to several hundred dollars, the newspaper said.

Presented with the results of a Free Press investigation, the newspaper added, Eckhold commented:

"In retrospect, we made a mistake when we didn't recognize that this problem was going to develop to be dangerous."

"When we gathered the information needed to answer the (federal agency) inquiry, it became clear to the company that these fans could be dangerous and needed to be recalled."

However, internal Ford documents obtained in July by the agency show company engineers had judged fan failures on the 1972 models to be a serious problem several years before the recall announcement, the newspaper reported.

The problem was caused by so-called "flex fans," it added, explaining that their thin, curved metal blades flatten out at high speed and increase cooling efficiency. In April 1972, engineers concluded that a major cause of failure was what they called "blade resonance at certain idle conditions."

The engineers found that while similar flex fans performed satisfactorily in other car and engine combinations, certain engine speeds in the new-recalled 1972 cars created fan vibrations strong enough to crack and eventually break off the flex blades, the Free Press said.

Anita Aims For Texas Coast; Residents Flee Inland

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Hurricane Anita took aim at the Texas Gulf Coast today, causing residents in low-lying areas to flee inland to avoid the vicious pinwheel's 100-mile-per-hour winds.

The National Weather Service said the storm, moving westward at about 7 m.p.h., would prompt hurricane warnings for some sections of the Texas coast by early today.

Larry Mooney, chief forecaster for the National Weather Service in Corpus Christi, predicted that the storm would hit between Corpus Christi and Brownsville. Mooney said Anita is "potentially a more dangerous storm" than Celia which killed 12 in Texas in 1970.

A private forecasting firm, StormNet, which works primarily for oil companies along the Texas coast, said late Wednesday there was a 50 per cent chance that Anita would go ashore late today at Brownsville and a 25 per cent chance of its hitting at Corpus Christi.

At 3 a.m., EDT, Anita's center was near latitude 25.9 north and longitude 93.8 west, about 230 miles east of Brownsville. Gales extended 200 miles from the storm's center, the weather service said.

A hurricane watch was in effect along 500 miles of coast from Louisiana's Vermilion Bay to the Mexican border.

In Texas, Red Cross emergency stations were at the ready and more than 4,000 National Guardsmen were on two hour standby, state officials said. Engineers were prepared to shut coastal petroleum, natural gas and chemical pipelines.

As residents along Louisiana's coast relaxed with Anita's westward movement, Texas coastal dwellers boarded up homes, secured boats and fled inland from low-lying areas. But some stayed, waiting to see which way the storm would turn.

"We don't feel like we'll have even until in the morning to evacuate," said Port Aransas Police Chief DeWayne Mathews, who estimated that about 80 per cent of the town's 5,000 residents would be ferried inland.

"Only some of the old diehards who have been through every hurricane are staying," said Mathews, adding that rising tides, some more than five feet above normal, cut off ferry service by midnight Wednesday.

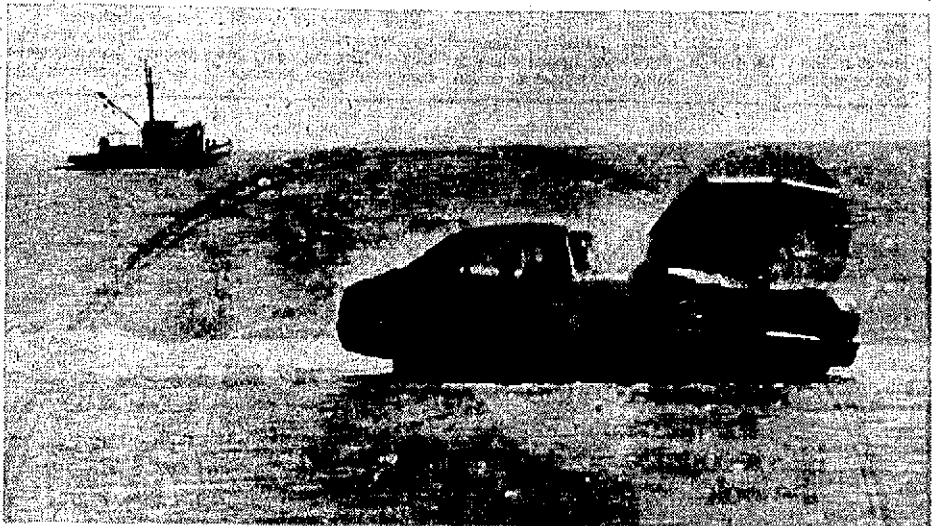

In Corpus Christi, a crane lifted boats out of the water to tether them on inland parking lots Wednesday night. Shrimpers in the Port O'Connor area came in from last-minute fishing runs late Wednesday to tuck their trawlers in the Victoria Barge Canal, which stretches 30 miles inland.

"It's wall-to-wall boats there," said one witness.

Meanwhile, the Labor Day island, which runs north from Brownsville along about 30 miles of the coast, was predictably ruined. "Cancellations are extremely high," said Dennis Ohe, assistant manager of a hotel there. "We were looked to capacity for Labor Day." South Padre Island has an ordinance requiring evacuations of all persons from the island in the event of hurricane danger.

Anita raised tide levels all along the Gulf. A shrimp boat is in the background working in Corpus Christi Bay. (AP Wirephoto)

September Schedule At Berrien Springs Sr. Citizens Center

BERRIEN SPRINGS — The central county senior citizens center here will be closed Monday, Sept. 5, for the Labor Day holiday, according to Barbara Williams, center director. Although the center will be closed Labor Day, center activities for the remainder of September include:

Sept. 11, annual meeting and potluck dinner, 1 p.m., at Berrien Springs middle school; Sept. 13, board meeting, 9:30 a.m. at the center; Sept. 14, registration for issues program, 2 to 4 p.m. at the middle school; Sept. 21, shopping trip to Scottsdale Mall, South Bend, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., reservations required; Sept. 24, annual fall festival and bazaar, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the middle school; Sept. 27, blood drive at the middle school. Blood pressure clinics will be held from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the Sodus township library, Sept. 6; Eau Claire village hall, Sept. 20; and at the center, Sept. 27.

195 Districts Without Pacts

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — State education officials say 195 school districts out of 530 in Michigan have not reached contracts with their teachers. Most districts begin classes next week. State Schools Supt. John Porter said Tuesday he hoped all the districts will have their differences settled in time for all classes to begin on schedule. That hasn't happened in the past 10 years. The 195 districts still negotiating represent 640,000 pupils — 28 per cent of the state's students. However, more school districts have either ratified contracts or reached tentative agreements with teachers now than at the same time in previous years. Only 35 districts reached contract agreements over the past two weeks.

Klan Says It's Infiltrating Women's Movement

DETROIT (AP) — The Ku Klux Klan, calling the women's movement a haven for "all the misfits of society," says it is infiltrating the movement and will disrupt upcoming women's meetings in Houston, the Detroit News reported today.

Robert Shelton, 48, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., imperial wizard of the United Klans of America

Inc., said in a telephone interview Wednesday hundreds of members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Klans have been "working against the women's movement for the past three to four years. Our women also were present at most of the state International Women's Year meetings, opposing the women's libbers."

The upcoming International Women's Year (IWY) national meetings will be in Houston Nov. 18-21.

"I will be in the vicinity of the national IWY meetings," said Shelton. "Some of our women members and sympathizers will be in the meetings as delegates to oppose what is going on. But our men also will be there to protect our women from all the militant lesbians who will be there. It's not safe for a decent woman to be there — some of our women were approached by lesbians at the state meetings."

In the interview, Shelton revealed:

—The Klan launched a campaign to infiltrate the women's movement several years ago because it opposes the movement as a haven for "all the misfits of society, including self-admitted lesbians."

—The Klan opposed the use of taxpayers' money to help organize the state meeting that selected delegates to the national conference. If Congress can authorize $5 million for that, he said, "then it should give $5 million to the Klan to fight for segregation."

—The Klan is willing to work "with any group with a Christian base; and yes, we are working with some Christian groups ... against the women's movement and the IWY meetings in particular." Shelton denied the Klan is working with the right-wing John Birch Society against the women's movement.

The National Women's Conference organizers hope to bring women from all around the nation to Houston to recommend ways of eliminating barriers to male and female equality. The conference grew out of the Commission on the Observance of International Women's Year, which former President Ford created in 1975.

"Shelton's statements verify what we have suspected for all summer during the state IWY meetings across the country — that the Klan was active in a number of those meetings," said Dorothy Haener, a national IWY commission member.

IWY spokeswomen and other feminists admit they were worried about a confrontation in Houston.

"Phyllis Schlafly (leader of the opposition to feminist goals) is seeking a resurgence of the far right by exploiting the women's movement."

Mrs. Schlafly of Altam, Ill., predicts the conference will "end the women's movement."

2 victory over St. Joseph in three-inning game. Patterson said both teams hope to repeat match next year, adding that St. Joseph city officials "expressed a desire for revenge." Softball game and picnic that followed were held to "develop friendship between the two communities," Patterson said. (Staff photo)

Vote To Recall Six From Niles Township Board Slated Oct. 25

By JOHN DYE
South Berrien Bureau

NILES — The special election on the recall of six Niles township board members will be held Oct. 25, according to Helen Forest, Berrien county deputy elections clerk.

Mrs. Forest said the date was set yesterday by the county's special election scheduling committee.

All members of the board except former supervisor John Bundy are subject to the recall vote. Mrs. Forest said Bundy was not included because he resigned on Aug. 22.

Setting the recall vote comes after both the Niles township and county clerk's office certified recall petitions. The Niles Township Taxpayer's association conducted the petition drive, which originally included Bundy.

The taxpayer's group launched the drive after claiming that the board failed to respond to questions from the public and allowed implementation of a controversial new assessment of property in the township. When he stepped down, Bundy countered that he felt the board made honest attempts to answer questions and stressed the new assessment has not yet been accepted by the board.

Mrs. Forest was named by Forrest Kesterke, Berrien county clerk, to conduct the election because William Barthel, the township clerk, will be subject to recall.

Kesterke yesterday estimated the cost of the election at between $300 and $500 for each of the township's 11 precincts, for a total cost of between $3,500 and $5,500.

Should a majority of the board members be recalled next month, Gov. William Milliken will have to appoint interim board members, Mrs. Forest said. If a majority is not recalled, remaining board members can name interim replacements.

Mrs. Forest said that if a majority of the board is recalled, another special election would have to be held to name new members to replace interim appointees. The county election scheduling committee would have to set the date within about 70 days from Oct. 25, or probably sometime in January, she added.

As for naming a replacement for Bundy, Barthel said the board could name a new supervisor at its Sept. 6 meeting. Whoever the replacement is, he may not be a present board member because all are subject to recall, Barthel added.

In addition to Barthel, other recall targets include Treasurer M. Sherman Drew, and Trustees Bob Jones, Charles Losensky, James Slover and James Sullivan.

State Eyes 'Conflict Of Interest' On Blues Board

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state will go to court Sept. 9 to seek a court order forcing Michigan Blue Cross and Blue Shield to disclose the occupations of all its board members.

The state wants to find out if any members who were appointed to the board to represent consumers also serve on hospital boards — which have their own representatives on the Blues panel.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Eugene Krasicky said Wednesday he will ask Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Victor Baum to order the Blues to turn over "conflict of interest" statements of its board members.

The request is part of the state's suit to block the Blues from replacing Charles Chomet on the board. Chomet, a consumer advocate, was voted out by board members, but the state won a restraining order blocking his removal pending further court action.

The attorney general's office asked the Blues to provide the conflict of interest statements to determine whether consumer members have other ties to the health care industry. But the Blues, the state's largest health insurer, refused to release the statements.

"We have reason to believe that some of the so-called consumer members are also members of hospital boards," Krasicky said Wednesday. "And we want to find out if this is true. If a member is on a board of a hospital, he cannot serve as a consumer representative."

Krasicky said the state is trying to determine if consumers are indeed properly represented on the board and whether consumer members had other interests in voting to replace Chomet.

Chomet was renominated for the Blues board by state Insurance Commissioner Thomas Jones. But the board rejected him on a 41-30 vote in July.

Blues board chairman James Woodruff said the refusal to release the conflict of interest statements was based on policy set long before the Chomet case came up.

The board approved a rule under which the statements would not be released upon request, but only under a court order or specific approval by the board or other special action.

"Management was just following board policy" in refusing to give the statements to the attorney general, Woodruff said. He declined to comment on Krasicky's statement that some consumer members may also be serving on hospital boards.

Chomet provoked irritation on the Blues' board by criticizing management and opposing a pay increase for Blues President John McCabe.

Woodruff has accused Chomet of making misleading and irresponsible statements, distorting information about the membership of the board and disregarding board policies.

APPEARING AT HOUSE OF DAVID: Jazz-rock group Blood, Sweat & Tears will perform at House of David park at 8 p.m. Friday. Instrumental-vocal group, which formed in 1968, has produced nine albums, and three of them have sold over 1 million copies each — "You Made Me So Very Happy," "And When I Die," and "Spinning Wheel." Lead singer David Clayton-Thomas rejoined group in late 1974. Jim Watkins, concert promoter, said he expects about 5,000 people to attend concert. House of David park is on Britain avenue, east of M-139, Benton township. Tickets for concert are $6.50 in advance and available at 10 locations in Twin Cities and $7.50 at the gate which opens at 6 p.m. Warmup band is White Summer, a local group.

PBB Discharges Puzzle Officials

GRAND HAVEN, Mich. (AP) — State officials are trying to figure out why PBB keeps turning up in discharges from a Grand Haven plant that stopped using the fire retardant chemical two years ago.

"We're not sure at this point what it means. We're continuing the investigation," said Richard A. Powers, a Department of Natural Resources biologist.

Alco Rubber Products Co. stopped using PBB (polybrominated biphenyls) in 1975 but DNR tests three weeks ago still found PBB.

Meanwhile, tests at an Ionla tire plant, which quit using PBB in 1974, found no sign of the chemical.

Powers said Alco mixed PBB into adhesive between 1972 and 1974. The latest tests showed 0.2 parts per billion of the chemical in water from a plant cooling system.

Powers added that soil near a loading dock, where part of the cooling system discharge collects, showed PBB levels of 60,000 parts per billion.

Alco bought 11,770 pounds of PBB before switching to Decchlorane 602. But the latter chemical has been shown to cause cancer and Alco has substituted another.

Powers said Decchlorane 602 is related chemically to the controversial pesticides Kepone and Mirex. Kepone has been banned in this country. Powers said all three depend upon a reaction involving C-56, another deadly chemical.

Controversy in Montcalm County over burial of C-56 resulted in a judge ordering the chemical removed last month and returned to its maker, Hooker Chemical Co. of Montcalm.

The state is checking the area around Alco for traces of other potentially deadly chemicals. Powers said, but results are incomplete.

General Tire & Rubber Co. at Ionla was the only other major Michigan industrial user of PBB. Tests showed no remaining traces of PBB there.

City Hall Reroof Approved In BH

Permits to reroof Benton Harbor city hall plus the former fire station at 372 East Empire avenue were among 15 issued by the city building inspection department during the past week for varied projects totaling $20,782.

Permits were issued to Enders & Co. to reroof city hall at 200 East Wall street, except for the new public safety wing, for an estimated $3,800; and the former fire station for an estimated $805.

A permit was issued to Cleary Construction Co. for repairs under the Community Development loan and grants program to a single-family home, owned by Luel Tisdale at 724 Columbus avenue for $3,740.

Other permits were issued to Trail Kleen, Inc., remodeling the home of Richard Lange Sr., 615 East Main street, $2,734; and repairs to the home of James Colquit, 1384 Union street, $734; Sam Hawkins, fire damage repairs to his home, 785 Piusden avenue, $2,300; Richard Brooks, repairs to his home, 417 Cedar, $1,100; Otis Turner, fire damage repairs in a three-family dwelling, he owns at 175 Bellview, $1,000.

Estella Robinson, reroofing her home, 471 Maple, $1,000; Miller-Porter Brothers, remodeling in the home of Johnnie Evans, 979 Lavelle, $850; Voyd Thomas, repairs to the home of Joel Hamilton, 1241 Pavone, $520; and reroofing at the home of Gracie Reed, 1173 Lavelle, $400; Robert Wagner, repairs to a two-family dwelling he owns at 663 Baird, $500; H & H Construction Co., reroofing at the home of Cleo Gaines, 1196 Pearl, $500; and Owen Moore, reroofing on a three-family dwelling he owns at 525 Cherry, $400.

Governors Will Likely Discuss Panama Treaty

By LARRY McDERMOTT
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Panama Canal treaty will be a hot item for discussion at the National Governors' Conference next week, but Gov. William Milliken says he opposes the conference taking an official stance.

In a news conference Tuesday, Milliken said he had no doubts the issue would be discussed but added it wasn't among the 30 to 40 policy positions now scheduled for debate by the governors.

The Southern Governors' Conference blocked a resolution this week which would have condemned the treaty.

The Republican governor, slated to succeed Gov. Reubin Askew as chairman of the conference, said he supports President Carter's proposed treaty and believes it should be accepted.

"Failure to deal with this question in an enlightened and forward-looking manner now could mean potentially that this country could be involved in another kind of active military action such as we turned our backs on in the last few years," Milliken said, referring to the Vietnam war.

Milliken said, however, he would take no action to block discussion of the treaty by the governors. "I have no doubt that it will be discussed there," he said. "I think that on a technical basis — that it hasn't been formally introduced — that I would oppose it (discussion)."

The governors' conference, which begins next Wednesday, will take the state leaders into a major city to look at problems such as crime, medical care and services to show what the state is doing to help. Milliken pointed out that most of the governors face problems similar to those in Detroit, the nation's fifth largest city.

"We want, more than ever before, to relate this conference to the real life problems governors are facing," he said.

Explaining Carter's positions and future plans for problems such as welfare reform, urban and economic development, energy conservation and the role of the states will be Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Joseph A. Califano, Commerce Secretary Juanita Kreps and some lower-echelon administration members.

Stephen Farber, executive director of the National Governors' Conference Association in Washington, told reporters the conference would live up to Milliken's request two years ago that it be one of the most productive ever held.

A member of the board of Detroit's Conventions and Visitors Bureau said the city has used the coming conference over the past two years to attract an additional $5 million to $7 million in convention business. The conference and their entourage are expected to spend about $1 million in the city.

The Michigan Legislature has appropriated about $250,000 to host the conference. Governors and others attending are paying a $50 registration fee to help defray expenses for entertainment and special events.

Unlike previous conferences, this one is paid for almost entirely by taxpayers without help from private interest groups.

'Ordinary Blokes' On Astronaut List

LONDON (AP) — Some were "ordinary blokes." Others were physicists, astronomers or engineers. And there was a 70-year-old British woman who said she was looking for something useful to do.

They were among thousands of applicants waiting to become Western Europe's first astronauts and its half of the two-man team that will fly the joint U.S.-European Spacelab mission planned for 1989.

The European Space Agency (ESA) in Paris asked its 12 member countries and Austria, an observer member of the agency, to submit a maximum of five nominations by today. Britain, Italy and the Netherlands announced their choices Wednesday.

"It never occurred to me that an ordinary bloke could actually go into space," said Geoffrey Firmin, a 39-year-old nuclear physicist who was one of the five chosen from among 600 Britons.

Michigan Fugitive Is Captured

BUFFALO (AP) — Federal agents in Buffalo have arrested Larry Smith, who, at 19, was one of the FBI's 10 most wanted fugitives.

U.S. authorities nabbed Smith Wednesday at the Peace Bridge, which links Buffalo to Canada, on charges of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for murder.

FBI officials said he is wanted in Michigan on charges stemming from the alleged $1,500 contract slaying of a Detroit resident in August 1975.

Canadian authorities made the arrest possible by deciding to deport Smith rather than press a recent Ontario weapons charge against him.

Walter A. Weiner, agent in charge of the Buffalo FBI bureau, said Smith escaped from a Detroit hospital last May 16 while awaiting trial on the murder charges. He was placed on the most wanted list a month after his escape.

Weiner said that prior to Smith's detention in Detroit last spring for trial purposes, he had been serving a life term in a Huntsville, Tex., prison for an aggravated robbery conviction.

Smith was arraigned Wednesday before U.S. Magistrate Edmund F. Maxwell. He was not asked to enter a plea and was jailed by Maxwell, who set bail at $250,000.

The magistrate scheduled a hearing for Sept. 7, when government attorneys will argue that Smith is the man for whom the fugitive warrant was issued in Detroit last June 2.

If the government is successful in the claim, Smith will be transferred to Detroit to stand trial on the murder charges.

Area MSU Senior Mixes Hoedowns 'N Homework

EAST LANSING — William R. Chase of Paw Paw belongs to a Michigan State University group which holds that hoedowns and homework go hand in hand.

Chase is the square dance caller of the MSU Promenaders, a student organization dedicated to learning square dances, round dances, and in general "hoofing" a good time.

The 35 or so regular members get together every Wednesday night to swing their partners and do-si-do with local teen groups and older East Lansing residents who occasionally join in the foot-shuffling.

New members are not shy observers for long, since veterans are required to "reel" in novices from the sidelines and dance with them.

The Promenaders often get together with other dance groups in the area and accept offers to perform at folk festivals, basketball game half-times, benefit dances and hoedowns.

Besides learning the many kinds of square dances, Promenaders have stepped up to the fox trot, waltz, tango, cha-cha, rumba, polka and jitterbug.

For special events, the guys get slicked up in their western shirts and scarves or string ties, and the gals doll themselves up by wearing crinoline hooped skirts, petticoats and dancing shoes.

Besides the fancy footwork, the group has a camaraderie that is hard to match.

"Square dance people are always friendly and always have a smile on their faces," said Gini Porritt, chief round dance caller.

Several marriages can be traced back to the group, where couples first met, started dance-ing together and, well, one thing led to another.

Members can receive merit badges for performing such antics as square dancing with a pickle in one's mouth or dancing on the river that cuts through campus when it freezes over in the winter.

Chase is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland M. Chase of Route 2, and is a 1974 graduate of Bloomingdale high school. He's a senior majoring in crop science.

Square dancing runs in the Chase family. William follows in the footsteps of two older brothers and a sister who were members of the MSU Promenaders.

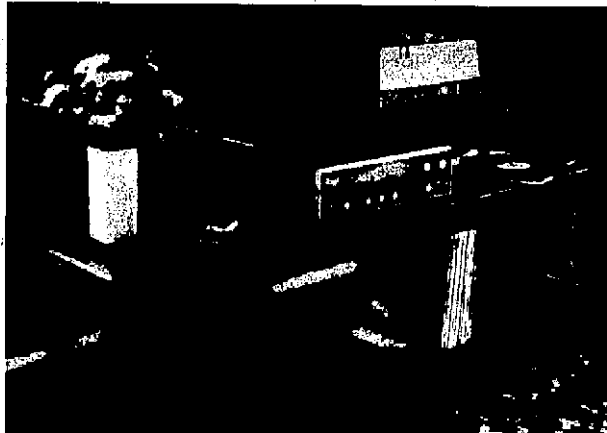

Chase has played basketball on a team that was runner-up for the MSU dormitory championship.

Networks Prepare To Launch Season

By JAY SHARRITT
AP Television Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — In addition to all their new specials, the networks also are about ready to start the annual Murine Festival — the new TV season — with 65 new or returning weekly series this month and the next.

And while it may not double your pleasure, double your fun, a check of the latest network schedules shows eight returning and one new series set to begin the 1977-78 season at double their usual length.

Six are situation comedies — CBS's M-A-S-H, Good Times, The Jeffersons and All in the Family, and ABC's Welcome Back, Kotter and Happy Days. They'll all debut with hour-long episodes.

In the field of classical drama, ABC's Starsky and Hutch will start the new season with a two-hour caper, ditto Charlie's Angels (which has a second two-hour show the next week) and NBC's new Oregon Trail.

Two-parters — in which viewers need to return the next week to learn how the stories came out — also figure in ABC's premiering, with four of its shows making two episodes from one yarn this month.

They are the Hardy Boys-Nancy Drew, Six Million Dollar Man, and Family series, and the two-part retirement of Fish from Barney Miller.

And now, for all who keep track of grand openings, we offer the following list of premier dates, as provided by the networks:

SUNDAY — NBC: Walt Disney, Big Event, Sept. 11; CBS: 60 Minutes, Sept. 11; Rhoda, Oct. 2; On Our Own, Oct. 8; All in the Family, Alice and Kojak, all Oct. 2; ABC: Hardy Boys-Nancy Drew and Six Million Dollar Man, Sept. 11.

MONDAY — NBC: Little House on the Prairie, Sept. 12; CBS: Young Don't Boome, Betty White and Mande, Sept. 12; Rufferty, Sept. 5; ABC: San Pedro Beach Bums, Sept. 12.

TUESDAY — NBC: Richard Pryor, Sept. 13; Mulligan's Stew and Police Woman, Oct. 25; CBS: Fitzpatrick and M-A-S-H, Sept. 20; One Day at a Time, Sept. 27, and Lou Grant, Sept. 21; ABC: Happy Days, Sept. 13; Laverne and Shirley, Sept. 20, and Three's Company, Soap and Family, all Sept. 13.

WEDNESDAY — NBC: Grizzly Adams, Sept. 28; Oregon Trail and Big Hawaii, Sept. 21; CBS: Good Times, Sept. 21, and Busting Loose, Sept. 28; ABC: Eight Is Enough and Charlie's Angels, Sept. 14; Baretta, Sept. 28.

THURSDAY — NBC: Chips, Sept. 15; Man From Atlantis and Rosetti & Ryan, Sept. 22; CBS: The Waltons, Hawaii Five-O and Barnaby Jones, Sept. 15; ABC: Welcome Back, Kotter, Sept. 13; What's Happening, Sept. 23; Barney Miller, Carter Country and Redd Foxx, all Sept. 15.

FRIDAY — NBC: Sanford Arms, Chico and the Man.

Rockford Files and Quincy, all Sept. 16; CBS: Wonder Woman and Logan's Run, Sept. 16; and Switch, Sept. 23; ABC: Donnie and Marie, Sept. 23.

SATURDAY — NBC: Bonnie Woman, Sept. 10; CBS: Bob

Newhart, Sept. 24; We've Got Each Other, Oct. 1; The Jeffersons, Tony Randall and Carol Burnett, all Sept. 24; ABC: Fish, Operation Petticoat and Starsky and Hutch, all Sept. 17; Love Boat, Sept. 24.

Prison Crowding Case Appeal Is Turned Down

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Michigan Court of Appeals refused Wednesday to grant a rehearing of a lower court's favorable ruling in a suit filed by the Human Rights Party to force an end to prison overcrowding.

The suit, filed in Ingham County Circuit Court in July 1976 by the party and its former chairman, Zolton Ferency, sought a court order to end prison overcrowding.

The court ruled in favor of the party's arguments that overcrowding is unconstitutional because it amounts to cruel and unusual punishment. The situation is dangerous to both inmates and prison employees, the suit said.

With little comment, the appeals court refused pleas by the state attorney general and the Department of Corrections to hear the case.

The appeal now can be carried to the Michigan Supreme Court or returned to the lower court. A decision must be made within 20 days.

"I'm very encouraged by this ruling," said Ferency, who has since left the left-wing Human Rights Party and rejoined the Democrats. Ferency is a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in the 1978 race.

"The appeal lacked merit, and the attorney general was merely filing a rebash of matters already argued. Now we'll see if he really wants to get down to business and do something about the problem of overcrowding," Ferency said.

Neither Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley nor Corrections Director Perry Johnson could be reached immediately for comment.

By THOMAS KENT
Associated Press Writer
MOSCOW (AP) — On a trip to Soviet Armenia, two American tourists boarded their plane to find every seat already taken.

The problem was solved — immediately — in a way that would surprise few foreigners who have toured the Soviet Union. The plane's crew simply picked two Russian passengers at random, expelled them from the plane over their objections and smilingly offered the foreigners their places.

Foreign travelers are a very privileged class in this country, which hosted more than four million visitors last year. Whether the reason is traditional Russian hospitality or a desire to attract more tourist dollars, foreigners here regularly enjoy treatment that the ordinary Russian can only dream of.

At airports, special employees escort foreigners in their planes separately from the crowds of Russian passengers. When an American visitor to one city reached the side of his plane, he found some 100 Russian passengers, including children, lined up in the rain waiting for him to go aboard first.

Foreigners can make reservations at restaurants where Soviets stand in long lines, receiving a table — sometimes with their country's flag in the middle — as soon as they arrive.

When a foreigner becomes ill, the normally quick Soviet medical service seems to work even faster.

"I got back to my hotel one night and my stomach was hurting so I asked the hotel to call a doctor," said one Western tourist. "Almost immediately, a whole crew arrived, with a stretcher and huge cases of drugs."

"They said my problem could be something minor, but just to be safe they insisted on pumping out my stomach."

On an airplane flight from Irkutsk, Siberia, an airport attendant was so eager that her

TRAVELING IN SOVIET UNION Foreigners Given 'Red' Carpet

American charge had plenty of room to relax that she blocked Russians from sitting in the seat next to him. Some Westerners believe such treatment also helps to isolate Russians from foreign contacts.

Surprisingly to a Westerner, there is usually little grumbling when Russians are asked to give up places or privileges to a foreign visitor. Only on rare occasions do Russians in a restaurant line up or aircraft boarding area complain about playing second fiddle to foreigners.

"I think some Russians are just in awe of foreigners, going back to when Peter the Great (the 18th century czar) brought in foreign experts to run the navy and the government," says a young Soviet teacher of the foreigners' treatment. Another woman speculated that "nobody likes the special treatment foreigners get, but they understand the country needs the hard currency foreign tourists bring."

Other Russians even say that ordinary people here believe foreigners can't take the hard life Russians live. Therefore, they must have special privileges or they won't survive their trips.

Hard currency clearly is important to the Soviet Union, which collects a large income from tourism and runs a chain of special stores selling hard-to-get goods for foreign money. The stores are guarded by attendants who quickly turn away any ordinary Russian who ventures inside.

Russians commonly hang around the entrances to these stores asking foreigners to buy them Western cigarettes, gaily decorated umbrellas or whatever else the store may be selling in the way of rare merchandise.

The merchandise is also comparatively cheap — $67 for instance, for a radio that costs the equivalent of $268 in an ordinary Russian store.

Advantages for foreigners also extend into the theater world, where the state-run Intourist Agency for foreign visitors can often obtain concert and ballet tickets virtually impossible for Russians to find.

Yet the special attention to foreign tourists does not isolate them from all the problems of travel in this country. Delays of tourist groups and last-minute changes in itinerary are still common, restaurant service is slow and knowledge of foreign languages among ordinary Russians is rare.

State Fair Roof Work Bids Near

DETROIT (AP) — The state expects to let bids within 30 days for a $300,000 project to repair of the coliseum roof at the State Fairgrounds, the governor's office announced. Gov. William Milliken, who was here for the annual governor's luncheon this week, said the money for the project initially will be sought from federal public works funds. But if the request is rejected, the state will use money made available in a supplemental appropriations bill passed Tuesday by the state legislature.

Bella's Car Attracts Tickets

NEW YORK (AP) — Bella Abzug, running for the Democratic mayoral nomination, has paid $1,075 in parking tickets, accumulated on an auto rented by her 1976 U.S. Senate campaign committee. Mrs. Abzug's press secretary, Harold Holzer, said the candidate was not aware of the tickets and had never received any notice that they had not been paid. "It was the campaign car, not Bella's car," Holzer said. "Bella is not a scrofflaw. She doesn't even drive."

Car Ferry Hearings Scheduled

LUDINGTON, Mich. (AP) — Months of hearings on the long battle by two railroads to drop their car ferry runs across Lake Michigan start in October.

After opening in Washington Oct. 17, the hearings will move into Michigan and Wisconsin.

The Chevalier System, which wants to halt its freight and passenger runs between Ludington and three Wisconsin ports, has one week to outline its case once hearings begin.

Next, the Grand Trunk Western Railroad, which carries freight from Muskegon to Milwaukee, gets another week to offer its arguments to the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington.

After the railroads argue, the hearings are scheduled to move to Ludington for three days in hear public protests against dropping the runs, one day in Muskegon, a full week in Green Bay, Wis., another day at Manitowish, winding up with an undetermined number of days in Milwaukee.

Both railroads first sought permission to give up the car ferries early in 1975. Hearings have been delayed while an environmental impact statement was drawn, commission staffers said.

Michigan's Food Bill Drops In August

By MICHAEL L. GRACZYK
Associated Press Writer

Your grocery bill should have dropped in August for the first time in six months as prices for seven of the 15 items in the monthly Associated Press Marketbasket survey showed declines from July.

Overall, the 15-item marketbasket survey of eight Michigan cities averaged $16.32, a nearly 3 per cent decrease from July's record $16.77. Each of the eight cities reported declines from the previous month.

Prices for five survey items remained unchanged, and just three showed increases.

Shoppers got good buys on center cut pork chops, which averaged $1.80 a pound, down 15 cents from July. And the price of coffee slipped for the third straight month to $3.14 a pound, down 11 cents from a month ago and 20 cents below the record set in May.

The only items to show increases were frozen orange juice, up a penny to a record 38 cents for a six-ounce can; paper towels, up a penny to a record 85 cents for a two-roll package; and fabric softener, up two cents to 80 cents for various sizes.

Other price breaks came on ground chuck, down seven cents, a pound to $1.06; detergent, off five cents to $1.39 for a 48-ounce box; and all-beef hot dogs, also off a nickel to $1.21 a pound.

A 14 1/2-ounce bag of chocolate chip cookies averaged 83 cents, down four cents from the previous month. And peanut butter slipped two cents to 70 cents for a 12-ounce jar.

Unchanged were a dozen medium eggs at 66 cents; a pound of butter at $1.28; an eight ounce can of tomato sauce at 24 cents; a quart of milk at 51 cents; and a five-pound bag of sugar at 96 cents.

The $16.32 overall average is the lowest since last March, when it stood at $15.81.

The 15 items cost the least in Grand Rapids, $15.70, and the most in Lansing, $17.07. Grand Rapids prices were down 29 cents from a month ago. Lansing was off 35 cents. Of the other cities checked, St. Joseph showed the greatest decline, down 57 cents to $16.30. Gaylord was off 74 cents to $16.61 and the Mount Clemens marketbasket totaled $16.23, down 52 cents. Marquette was $16.74, down 48 cents, while Detroit was $16.30, off 13 cents. Flint totaled $15.70, down 11 cents.

SURVEY LIST

Here are the statewide July and August averages for the 15 grocery items which comprise the AP Marketbasket survey:

1. One pound center-cut pork chops: $1.80, $1.95.
  2. Six-ounce frozen orange juice: 38 cents, 37 cents.

More Black Teens Are Jobless

WASHINGTON (AP) — The summer job market for white teen-agers proved to be a good one this year, but it was a different story for black youths, whose summertime jobless rate reached the highest level ever recorded.

The Labor Department says the number of unemployed black youths in the 16-to-21 age group rose by 100,000 over the past year to a rate of 34.8 per cent in July. The rate for whites declined to 12.6 per cent from 13.8 per cent last summer.

Disclosure of the figures Wednesday came after black leaders and AFL-CIO President George Meany charged that the Carter administration has callously disregarded the poor, the blacks and the cities.

The newest criticism came from Rep. Parren Mitchell, D-Md., chairman of the congressional Black Caucus. Mitchell met with President Carter on Wednesday and said afterwards "obviously there has been neglect" of blacks by the administration.

Mitchell was at the White House to arrange for a meeting between Carter and the caucus membership on Sept. 7. He said the President welcomed the idea of regularly scheduled meetings with black lawmakers.

Commenting on the joblessness figures, Labor Secretary Ray Marshall said, "This is most disturbing. 'I'm not surprised at the criticism by the black movement and labor. I would be surprised if they were satisfied.'"

But Marshall added that "it would be a serious misstatement to say that we're not doing anything."

He announced plans to establish three new Job Corps centers and an agreement with the Departments of Agriculture and Interior to administer the new Young Adult Conservation Corps for jobless youths.

Both measures mark the implementation of a $1 billion program recently signed into law by President Carter to put 200,000 young people to work in public service jobs, park and forestry projects.

Marshall said these programs should help reduce joblessness. However, he said other steps are needed to reduce the number of high school dropouts — currently 500,000 — entering the job market each year and control the influx of illegal aliens who compete for the American jobs with teen-agers and women.

Lawton Cyclist Is Storm Victim

By TOM SAWYER
Staff Writer

LAWTON — Winston Feenstra, 30, Lawton, was killed in a freak accident last night when his motorcycle struck a large tree limb that had fallen across the road during last night's storm, state police at Paw Paw said.

Feenstra, route 1, was alone on the motorcycle, police said. He was pronounced dead at Lake View hospital, Paw Paw, after the 10:50 p.m. accident.

Police said the accident occurred on CR-600 just north of 81st avenue in Decatur township, about two miles southwest of Lawton in Van Buren county.

Troopers said it appeared

WINSTON FEENSTRA
Victim of storm

Feenstra tried to avoid the limb, but apparently saw it too late. Skid marks indicated Feenstra tried to stop and he struck the limb off the pavement at the side of the road, apparently in an attempt to get around the limb, troopers said.

According to Paul Kaiser, engineer-manager of the Van Buren county road commission, the limb was about 18 inches in diameter and came from a large maple tree. He said there was no heavy wind with the electrical storm last night and said the limb may have been weakened in previous storms.

Troopers said there were no witnesses to the crash and it was reported by motorists who arrived on the scene shortly after the accident. Feenstra was wearing a motorcycle helmet, troopers said.

Feenstra's death was the 21st recorded on Van Buren county roads so far this year. Twenty-four lost their lives in traffic accidents in the county during 1976.

He was born Nov. 21, 1936, and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Hovenkamp, route 1, Lawton.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete at the Newell funeral home, Decatur.

It's News TODAY

Police Spying Not Unlawful

DETROIT (AP) — Indicating a change in position, Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley now says police spying on individuals and organizations engaged in political activities isn't unlawful. Kelley's statement was part of a legal brief filed in Wayne County Circuit Court this week in a case filed in 1974 by members of a state consumer group who found they were being spied on by state police at the request of a legislator. In the past, Kelley has termed "abhorrent" the spying activities of a now-defunct state police unit called the "red squad." In the brief, Kelley also appeared to have changed his position on the disclosure of information to some 38,000 persons and 400 political groups placed under surveillance by the red squad. Kelley last year agreed to a recommendation from Circuit Court Judge James Montanile to disclose information gathered by the Red Squad to all those on whom files were kept.

Rhodesians Give Smith Mandate

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Ambassador Andrew Young and British Foreign Secretary David Owen brought the British-American peace plan to Prime Minister Ian Smith today after he won a landslide election victory that strengthened his earlier rejection of its key proposals. Owen and Young arrived from Nairobi, Kenya, where they waited out the election Smith called Wednesday to strengthen his hold on the Rhodesian Legislative Assembly. The British-American plan for Rhodesia's transition to black majority rule was to be made public simultaneously in Salisbury, London and Washington later today.

NMU Strike Vote Scheduled

MARQUETTE, Mich. (AP) — Northern Michigan University students will learn next Wednesday whether they'll continue classes or some 300 faculty members will go on strike. Robert McClellan, president of the Northern Michigan chapter of the American Association of University Professors, said the union members will take a strike vote then after rejecting a three-year offer from the university on Tuesday. The latest offer included a 26 per cent salary increase spread over three years. A similar offer providing a 24 per cent salary hike also was rejected by the union last week, 194-0. The proposed increase still would make Northern Michigan faculty members the lowest paid of any state-funded college faculty in the state, said McClellan. Salary and fringe benefits at Northern average $18,300 a year at Northern, the union says. The faculty members have been without a contract since the old one expired in June. They began the fall term on schedule this week.

Suspect Faces More Charges

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — A Pontiac man who police believe ran a sex school for young children today faced 11 new charges of criminal sexual conduct involving four youngsters. Oakland County Prosecutor L. Brooks Patterson issued warrants Tuesday and Wednesday charging Wayne T. Heacock, 31, with 10 counts of first-degree criminal sexual conduct and one third-degree count. Patterson said the charges involved alleged sexual activity with three boys and a girl, all in their teens or younger. Heacock was arrested last week by Oakland County deputies on five charges of first-degree criminal sexual conduct involving a nine-year-old boy. At that time, deputies confiscated a box filled with tapes, photographs and handwritten diaries which officers said detailed more than 200 alleged sexual encounters.

SALT Talks Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko will grapple with four key unresolved issues when they meet here in three weeks in a resumption of strategic arms limitation talks. The meeting initially was scheduled to be held next week in Vienna but was put off until Sept. 22-23 to give the two sides additional time to lay the groundwork for a possible new SALT agreement.

U.S. Prisons Reforming

WASHINGTON (AP) — An internal reform movement is developing within the country's prison system, where authorities often face court orders to improve conditions for inmates. Officials are setting up a system whereby prisons, like hospitals and schools, will face accreditation. The private Commission of Accreditation for Corrections has issued 465 standards which detail conditions it considers the minimum acceptable across a broad range of prison activities. The standards cover training for prison guards, surprise cell searches, prison food, fires, riots and hostage situations.

NILES CROSSING: Workmen put last layer of asphalt on Fifth street crossing in Niles, yesterday, ending more than four-year battle to replace aging, wood viaduct with grade-level crossing. This Dick Cooper photo was taken shortly before ribbon-cutting ceremonies opened crossing to traffic. At ceremony were Niles Mayor Robert Woodbridge, Mrs. Ralph Wegner, widow of late Mayor Ralph Wegner, and City Alderman James Wegner, son of late mayor. Removal of 86-year-old viaduct had been one of Mayor Wegner's most sought-after projects.

Hurricane Anita Picks Up Speed

By MILLER BONNER
Associated Press Writer
BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Dawn broke over a serene Lower Rio Grande Valley today, but Hurricane Anita — moving ever closer over the Gulf of Mexico — drew a bead on that land of citrus groves and beach resorts.

The season's first hurricane lurked less than 200 miles off the lower Texas coast, packing 105-mile-an-hour winds around its center and throwing out gale force winds 200 miles north of the center, located at latitude 25.9 north and longitude 94.3 west. Brownsville sits at latitude 26.

A hurricane watch posted earlier for an area between Vermilion Bay, La., and Matagorda Bay in Texas was discontinued by forecasters at the National Hurricane Center in Miami as low pressure continued to suck the hurricane on a slightly southwestern track.

Moderate temperatures and scattered clouds gave scant indication of the storm's approach early today. But some thunderheads were visible on the horizon off Corpus Christi in the north and tides along the coast swelled up to eight feet above normal, causing some flooding of highways and roads.

Brownsville, population 40,000, is slightly inland from the Gulf of Mexico, and is the focal point of the Lower Rio Grande Valley that takes in such cities as Harlingen, McAllen and Edinburg and produces huge citrus and sugar cane crops.

Brownsville's twin city of Matamoros, Mexico, is just across the border, and its population of about 180,000 sits directly in the storm's path. Below Matamoros, the coast opens up to sparse population and few buildings for about 150 miles.

Anita's westward motion doubled in speed from 5 to 10 miles an hour as hurricane warnings were hoisted between Corpus Christi and Brownsville.

State Department of Public Safety officers helped local law enforcement agencies to evacuate South Padre, an area of glistening white beaches and luxury hotels and condominiums that saw what promised to be a big Labor Day business blown aside by the storm.

Forecasters also warned residents of nearby Port Isabel to complete their evacuation by nightfall.

Earlier, Lorry Mooney, chief forecaster at the National Weather Service office at Corpus Christi, had predicted that the hurricane would land between Corpus Christi and Brownsville.

Two Youths Are Booked By Police

Two young men were arrested Wednesday night after a large group of youths came to the Benton Harbor state police post and said there was going to be a gang fight at Benton township park on the St. Joseph river.

Police said there was no fight but Troopers Diane DeWitt and Ron Olson booked two men after receiving a report that a pipe had been thrown at a car near the park.

Troopers said the gang fight report may have resulted from an incident Tuesday in which a young woman allegedly sustained a broken nose in an assault at Fairplain Plaza.

Arrested Wednesday were Steven D. Hamner, 23, of 1307 Rose avenue, Benton township, booked for investigation of a charge assault with a deadly weapon (a pipe), and Roger Simpson, 21, of 4827 Empire avenue, Benton township, booked for investigation of a charge of aiding and abetting an assault with a deadly weapon.

Troopers reported the complainant was Gordon Ricketts, 20, of 514 Britain avenue, Benton Harbor, who said two men came out of a wooded area and one threw a pipe at a car in which he was riding on Soperlayton road, narrowly missing an open window. Ricketts said he was riding in a car driven by Bryan LaGrow of the same Britain avenue address.

The victim in the alleged assault Tuesday at the plaza was identified as Susan Smith, 18, of 610 Court street, St. Joseph. Troopers said three warrants were being sought in connection with the assault.

South Haven Boy Found Unconscious

By TOM RENNER
South Haven Correspondent

SOUTH HAVEN — City police said they are trying to determine whether a seven-year-old boy found unconscious in his family's yard last night was the victim of an overdose of a prescribed drug.

Carlos Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Collins, 654 Indiana avenue, was listed in serious condition today at Bronson hospital in Kalamazoo.

The boy was found unconscious outside his home by his family at about 9:15 p.m. City patrolman William Kromboller said the boy had stopped breathing and he administered artificial respiration until an ambulance arrived.

The boy's parents told police that their son was on medication, but it was not immediately determined if that medication had caused the boy to pass out.

Police said they were waiting for reports from the boy's doctor to learn what caused him to pass out. There were no other signs of injuries to the boy, according to police.

NBC Settles Female Suit

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC has agreed to an affirmative action hiring program and will give $540,000 in back pay awards as part of the settlement of a discrimination suit by female employees.

The back pay ranges from $1,336 to $35,174 for the 18 women who originally brought the suit, and either $1,000 or $500 each for 2,700 who became party to the suit when it became a class action.

NBC also agreed to set up a fund that will eventually provide $3 million in merit pay to women promoted or given job reclassifications.

ATLANTA (AP) — An unusually large number of children in metropolitan Atlanta have come down with whooping cough, the national Center for Disease Control reports.

U.S. Eyes Nitrite Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two federal agencies are taking joint action aimed at forcing the manufacturers of meat products to prove that no health hazards are posed by their use of sodium nitrite. The Food and Drug Administration and the Agriculture Department say the government is considering banning sodium nitrites and nitrates as food additives. For years, food manufacturers have used these substances to prevent the growth of deadly bacteria in meats. But the government has raised questions about evidence that nitrates and nitrites combine with certain amino acid compounds when bacon is fried to form nitrosamines, substances shown to cause cancerous tumors in laboratory animals. Officials say they are equally concerned over the possibility that the processing additives may cause the formation of cancer-causing compounds in the stomach after certain foods are digested.

Suspect Taken To Illinois

Guadalupe Garcia Banda, 37, waived extradition in Berrien Fifth District court and was picked up this morning by Rochelle, Ill., police on a warrant charging armed violence and battery.

Banda, who was arrested Tuesday night in Pipestone township by Berrien sheriff's officers, is accused in Rochelle as one of three men who shot seven people in a cafe there July 17. The victims sustained minor wounds.

Banda, of Mathis, Texas, was booked by sheriff's officers on a charge of carrying two concealed weapons after his car was stopped on M-140. Sheriff's officers said the concealed weapons charge will not be pressed here because he faces a more serious charge in Illinois. A Law Enforcement Information network check showed Banda was wanted in Illinois.

Q. How is the romance between Marlo Thomas and her favorite TV star, Phil Donahue, progressing? — G.G., Chicago

A. The romance is faring very well. The couple took a vacation together in the Caribbean. Marlo is a real love - them - and - leave - them girl. If she gets bored or the relationship loses its excitement, she's off and away. As long as she stays you know she's happy. So with Phil it's so far, so good.

Q. I hear that Princess Grace of Monaco is seriously involved in an upcoming Broadway musical. Anything to it? — A.L., Akron

A. Yes, but don't bet she'll come out of retirement and leave Monte Carlo for Shubert Alley. Her Royal Highness is, however, carefully watching preparations of "Josephine," a $1,200,000-plus musical based on the life of Josephine Baker, the late singer-dancer who was the rage of Paris in the 1920s. Princess Grace was a close friend of Baker, and helped out during the singer's last, financially strapped days before she died at 68 two years ago. Just recently, Princess Grace reviewed a first draft of the show's script and gave the producers her enthusiastic approval. She also made clear that because she is who she is, she can't personally invest in the musical.

Lawmakers Eying Lack Of Doctors

One of the most pressing problems to people, especially in Michigan's rural areas, is the shortage of family doctors, according to State Rep. Bela Kennedy (R-Bangor).

Looking into this problem is a House Republican Task Force on Health Manpower Resources which will hold a series of

Police Chief Is Seeking CB Helpers

WATERVLIET — Bartley Rose, Watervliet police chief, has announced plans to establish a citizens band (CB) radio patrol to assist his department in preventing crime in the Watervliet area. Chief Rose said an organizational meeting will be held Sept. 12 at 8 p.m. at city hall. He said volunteer CB'ers will patrol as observers reporting to police any crimes or potential police matters.

public hearings on the problem beginning Tuesday, Sept. 6 in Allegan and Dowagiac.

The Allegan hearing is slated for 9:30 a.m. in the commissioner's room of the Allegan county courthouse. The Dowagiac hearing will be at 2:30 p.m. at Chestnut Towers community room.

Rep. Kennedy is chairman of the task force which will release its preliminary report on the bad distribution of physicians in Michigan and seek public input on possible solutions to the problem. State Rep. Edgar Fredricks (R-Holland) will co-chair the Allegan hearing.

"We're especially interested in hearing from residents in areas where physician shortage is a real problem and how the local communities have been able to serve the medical needs of its residents," Kennedy said. "Allegan and Van Buren counties fall into the category of being marginally underserved," he added.

Specifically, Kennedy pointed out, the task force is seeking information on what can be done at the state legislative level to encourage physicians to locate in underserved areas and to encourage young medical students to enter family practice.

The task force will hold hearings later next week in Rogers City, Cadillac, Sault Ste. Marie and Escanaba. Further hearings are also scheduled for Detroit, Charlotte and Grand Valley State college.

Blacks Seek Probe Of Death

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

Four people representing black community groups met yesterday with Berrien Prosecutor John Smietanka to "ask for a fair and equal investigation of the McEldon Tisdell death," according to a spokesman.

James Alexander, of the Young Men's Improvement Association, said "new evidence" which his organization has received "at least makes the situation worth looking at again." He declined to comment on the new evidence.

Tisdell was shot and killed by Berrien Springs-Oronoko township police July 28, and the Berrien prosecutor's office on Aug. 2 ruled the killing was "justifiable homicide." Tisdell was black, and both police officers involved in the shooting were white.

Alexander said the group also inquired why there was no prosecution in cases of blacks killing blacks. Three cases were cited.

In addition to Alexander, others at the 1½-hour closed-door meeting in Smietanka's office included Mrs. Annie Lee Robinson, chairman of the Black Coalition for Democracy, Carl Brown and Joe Taylor. All four are from Benton Harbor. Brown is a candidate for the Benton Harbor city commission in the November election.

Smietanka told a Herald-Palladium reporter: "If further evidence is presented that a criminal offense was committed, we would of course reopen the investigation and consider prosecution at that juncture."

Brown, interviewed after the meeting, said: "The door is left open to the prospect of a re-investigation."

Alexander said the group

Reopen Tisdell Case, Groups Urge

suggested to Smietanka that an independent investigation be conducted into Tisdell's death by a team of two blacks with investigation experience and two whites. Both Alexander and Brown said "the black community as a whole" would want to have approval of the black investigators.

"Tisdell was the main objective, but we're concerned with all killings," Alexander said.

"We would also like to see all self-defense cases reopened."

The latter was a reference to a recent ruling by Smietanka's office that there would be no prosecution of Mrs. Helen Wade in the Aug. 20 slaying death of Willie L. Simpson, 59. Smietanka ruled the shooting was in self-defense.

In March, Ernest Griffin, of Benton Harbor, was stabbed to death by a woman, which was ruled as justifiable homicide by Smietanka. Later that month, Robert Alexander, also of Benton Harbor, died when shot by his wife. That was also ruled justifiable homicide by the prosecutor.

"It seems to be open season on women killing men," Mrs. Robinson said yesterday. "It seems unreal there could be that many justifiable homicides."

Mrs. Robinson also noted her organization is still circulating petitions for an appointment of a special investigating agency in the Tisdell shooting, and that some 2,000 signatures have been collected from people throughout Berrien county. "We want to see justice for both sides," commented Alexander.

While Alexander said he felt some progress had been made, he added that "if we can't get satisfaction at the local level, we'll go through channels." He indicated the next step may be to take the groups' requests to the state attorney general's office.

Another group, the Southwestern Michigan Baptist Ministers Alliance, has previously asked for a new probe into the Tisdell death. Tisdell, 28, was fatally shot at Rose Hill Manor in Berrien Springs, where police were called on complaint of a disturbance.

The prosecutor's ruling said investigation showed Tisdell was twice ordered to drop a shotgun which was lowered, then pointed again at one of the officers, who then fired in self-defense. An investigation by detectives from the Berrien Sheriff's department identified the two officers as George John and Fred Foster.

MEET WITH PROSECUTOR: Representatives from black community organizations met yesterday with Prosecutor John Smietanka to ask for re-investigation into McEldon Tisdell shooting and other deaths. From left are James Alexander, of Young Men's Improvement Association, Annie Lee Robinson, Black Coalition for Democracy, and Joe Taylor. Carl Brown, of Benton Harbor, also attended meeting but refused to have photograph taken. (Staff photo)

Buchanan Tax Roll In Question

By JOHN DYE
Staff Writer

BUCHANAN — This city's assessor did not have the authority to certify Buchanan's 1977 tax assessment roll, top state and local officials have confirmed.

City Manager Robert Faulhaber said yesterday both he and the city commission were fully aware the action could result in a court challenge of Buchanan's tax roll.

Louis Ray Pease, the city's assessor, is a state-certified Level II assessor, and the state requires the city be assessed by a Level III assessor, according to John La Rose, executive secretary of the state assessors board.

Edward Kane, secretary of the state tax commission, said Pease did not have the authority to sign the rolls because he was not a Level III assessor, as required by state law.

Kane said the unauthorized signature, made on March 16 of this year, could result in a court challenge. If such a challenge was filed by a disgruntled taxpayer, the suit could also block the city's ability to collect taxes based on the roll, Kane added.

According to Francis Rawlinson, Berrien county tax equalization director, there are four levels of certified assessors in the state. Each level requires a higher level of certification based on a formula that includes a city or township's total state equalized valuation and its percentage of industrial and commercial property.

City Manager Faulhaber, confirming information learned in an investigation by this newspaper, said that both he and the city commission were "aware of the consequences," when Pease signed the city's 1977 assessment and tax roll warrants in March.

Maintaining "there are two sides to every story," Faulhaber said, "we feel we (the city) didn't cause the problem; we feel the problem was caused by the state."

Faulhaber said that Pease applied for a provisional Level III certification from the assessor's board that would enable him to certify the roll. He added, however, that the state turned down the request.

Explaining that when the previous assessor in the city, Richard Bell, took the office he was given a provisional Level III rating, Faulhaber said he did not understand why Pease's request was turned down.

Pease, paid $15,000 annually as the city's assessor and building inspector, was hired in November of 1976. Bell, who is now a fully qualified Level III assessor, is now the Lincoln township assessor and was paid $12,500 annually when he left Buchanan.

Both Kane and LaRose said they were unaware Pease had signed the roll until contacted by this newspaper.

La Rose said a letter sent from Faulhaber to his office, dated Feb. 22, 1977, stated that the city had entered into an agreement with Anthony Caranci, a Level III assessor for the city of Niles, to certify the tax roll.

Faulhaber said the agreement was never carried out, and Caranci confirmed the same information when contacted.

La Rose also said that Pease had twice failed examinations conducted by the assessor's board that would have qualified him as a Level III assessor.

Faulhaber described Pease as a "victim of circumstances," and said he expected him to pass the Level III exam later this year.

In addition to a court challenge, the state tax commission could also seize the roll and assume responsibility as the assessor for the city. But his department is neither funded nor staffed to take such responsibility in every community where an assessor is not qualified, he added.

La Rose said his office sends a list of governmental units with unqualified assessors to the tax commission annually.

Buchanan was not on this year's list because of Faulhaber's Feb. 22 letter to him, La Rose added.

Kane described Buchanan's situation as "problematical" because no challenge has been made. La Rose pointed out that since 1972, when assessors were required by law to be certified, no court challenge has been made because of an unauthorized signature on a tax roll.

Covert School District Classes Begin Sept. 6

COVERT — The first day of school in the Covert district is Sept. 6 and buses will pick up both elementary and high school students, according to Supt. William Randall. Buses will pick up high school students between 7:15 and 7:30 a.m. and elementary students between 8:15 and 8:50 a.m. Hot lunches will also be available on the first day.

School Districts Join Hands For Adult Education

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Berrien Springs and Eau Claire school boards have joined hands in a cooperative evening adult education program this year.

The project, called River Bend Adult Education program, will offer classes at Berrien Springs high school on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays; and at Eau Claire high school on Wednesdays, according to Mrs. Ilene Sheffer, Berrien Springs community education director.

Mrs. Sheffer and Ken Brauer, Eau Claire community education director, will administer the program designed for any adult residing in either school district.

Eau Claire has not previously operated an adult education program, according to Mrs. Sheffer, and the cooperative effort should help bring more people into such a program.

Courses will begin Sept. 12, with classes leading to a high school equivalency certificate, plus basic education classes and special classes for non-English speaking adults.

Registration for the free adult education classes will be open until Sept. 12.

General Education Development (G.E.D.) test will be given by appointment. Applicants must be at least 18 and have been out of school for one year or more. The G.E.D. testing service also has a Spanish edition of the test.

Adults interested in registering for any classes or the G.E.D. test should contact the Berrien Springs community education office.

Classes will be from 7 to 9 p.m. High school completion courses scheduled include:

Monday — Consumer economics, biological science, stenography; Tuesday — Typing I, mathematics, practical English; Wednesday — U.S. history, bookkeeping, art; Thursday — Government, office machines, and psychology.

COOPERATIVE EFFORT: Berrien Springs and Eau Claire school district have joined hands in forming a cooperative evening adult education program this year. Shaking hands on deal from left are: Dr. William Hori, Eau Claire school superintendent; Ken Brauer, Eau Claire community education director; Ilene Sheffer, Berrien Springs community education director; and Jon Schuster, Berrien Springs, school superintendent.

'Tree Day' Saturday At Love Creek

BERRIEN CENTER — "Tree Day" at Love Creek Nature Center near here will be held Saturday, Sept. 3, at 3 p.m., according to Charles Barnes, director-naturalist. Those wanting to help support the center's activities will have a chance to select and purchase a tree or shrub which will then be planted at the center. In other center activities, Barnes and Stan Berkman, director of Fernwood, Inc., will conduct a class in "Landscaping with Nature" from 1 to 4 p.m., on Sept. 10, 11, 17 and 18. The course will include instruction in basic landscaping design concepts, materials, and wildlife needs, to aid in beautifying property plus attracting wildlife. There is a $3 fee for the course and reservations should be made through the center's office. "Fall at Love Creek," a slide presentation followed by a nature walk will be presented at 3 p.m., Sept. 24.

Saugatuck Prison Trial Is Re-Scheduled Again

ALLEGAN — A circuit court trial over state plans to turn a former seminary into a medium security prison has been delayed a second time here.

Allegan Circuit Judge George Corsiglia has re-scheduled the trial to begin Oct. 4 to allow more time to discuss procedural matters in the case. The trial originally was set for Aug. 2, then delayed until Sept. 6.

The state has an option until Oct. 15 to purchase the 550-acre St. Augustine seminary between Saugatuck and Holland. A citizen's Prison Action Committee (PAC) is opposed to turning the former seminary into a medium security prison. The group's suit seeks to block the state from exercising its option to purchase the seminary.

Carlton Notches 19th Win For Phils

Dodgers Whitewash Cubs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rick Rhoden drove in a run and combined with two relievers to hurl a six-hitter as Los Angeles beat Chicago 5-0 Wednesday night.

Steve Garvey singled home Reggie Smith to break a scoreless tie in the fourth inning. Bill Russell's bases-loaded infield out in the fifth inning produced the second run and Rhoden singled home Vic Davalillo with the third run in the sixth inning.

The Dodgers added two more runs in the eighth on Dave Lopes' RBI squeeze bunt and an error.

Davalillo, the 38-year-old veteran acquired last week from the Mexican League, collected three of the Dodgers' hits, one of which was a double. He is 7-for-16 in the seven games since joining Los Angeles.

Rhoden, 18-8, scattered five hits over 7 1/3 innings, but fired with one out in the eighth and Lance Gantzman took over. Mike Garman pitched the ninth. Rhoden walked only one while striking out four before tiring from the after effects of the flu.

The victory gave the Dodgers a split of their 12-game season series with the Cubs.

If the Pittsburgh Pirates don't win the National League's Eastern Division this season, they'll know who to blame.

"If we don't win the pennant," said the Pirates' Dave Parker, "I'm sure we'll think back to how the Giants owned us."

For the 10th time in 12 meetings this year, the Pirates fell to San Francisco. Jim Barr's eight-hitter and Darrell Evans' four hits, including a three-run homer in the first inning, boosted the Giants to a 6-2 victory.

The Giants, fourth in the West, are 10 games below .500. But, to the Pirates, they are world-beaters.

Especially Evans, batting a mediocre .238 against the rest of the league, but who had 17 hits in 30 trips against the Pirates for a .567 average. Evans hit four homers and drove in 16 runs against Pittsburgh.

Barr, 12-12, yielded only five hits after the Pirates rallied in the second inning to tie the score 3-3. Bill Robinson hit his 24th home run and Fernando Gonzalez stole home in the inning.

The Giants scored the winning run on Derrel Thomas' sacrifice fly in the fifth.

The loss dropped Pittsburgh five games behind Eastern Division-leading Philadelphia.

Elsewhere in the National League, Tom Seaver blanked Montreal 6-0 on three hits. Steve Carlton won his 19th game with an eight-hit, 6-1 triumph over Atlanta. Houston beat New York 5-2, and San Diego edged St. Louis 2-1.

Seaver collected his eighth victory in a row and ran his lifetime strikeout total to 2,901 by fanning six Expos. Joe Morgan hit his 21st homer of the year to help the Reds' ace.

Carlton won his 15th straight game at home to become the second 19-game winner in the majors. He struck out nine and walked one as Philadelphia won its 22nd game in the last 28 and 14th in a row at Veterans' Stadium.

The Phillies sent 10 men to bat in the fifth inning against Phil Niekro, 13-17, and secured four runs to put the game away. The big hit was Greg Luzinski's two-run single.

Houston took its seventh straight victory while handling the Mets their seventh loss in a row. Mark Lemongello, 6-14, scattered eight hits and Enos Cabell knocked in three runs.

San Diego handed St. Louis its seventh straight loss as Bob Shirley and Rolfe Fingers collaborated on an eight-hitter with Fingers collecting his 30th save.

Gene Richards tripled in a run and George Hendrick added an RBI double for San Diego.

O's Finally Tag Tanana

Oglivie's Bat Keeps Wilcox Unbeaten

From ASSOCIATED PRESS.

There really was no reason for Frank Tanana to be concerned when Baltimore's Doug DeCinces stepped to the plate in the eighth inning of a tie game Wednesday night.

Even though DeCinces had walked twice and been hit by a pitch, he showed only one hit in 18 career at-bats against Tanana.

That number is now 2-for-19. DeCinces cracked a tie-breaking home run to give Baltimore a 4-3 victory over the California Angels and boost the Orioles into a second-place tie with the Boston Red Sox in the American League.

Tanana had beaten the Orioles three times this season, and had a near-invisible 0.82 earned run average against them. This time, though, he failed to hold an early three-run lead.

The Orioles and Red Sox, who lost to the Cleveland Indians 4-3, are four games behind the New York Yankees, who edged the Seattle Mariners 5-4. In the AL West, the Kansas City Royals nipped the Texas Rangers 5-4 and increased their lead to 2 1/2 games over idle Chicago. The Minnesota Twins, 4-3 losers to the Oakland A's, are three games out, while Texas trails by

In the only AL game between non-contenders, the Detroit Tigers downed the Milwaukee Brewers 5-2.

Jim Norris drove in the tie-breaking run with a pinch double in the ninth inning after the Indians erased a 3-0 deficit in the seventh inning. Rico Carty, who drove in the first Cleveland run with a double and scored on Ron Pruitt's game-tying two-run double, singled off loser Bob Stanley. Then Pruitt walked and Norris grounded a double inside third basen scoring pinch-runner John Lowenstein.

Graig Nettles, the defending AL home run king, surpassed his 1876 total with a pair of solo shots, including the tie-breaking ninth-inning blast that provided the winning run. Along with home run No. 34, Nettles also drove in a run with a single and Chris Chambliss hit a two-run homer while relief ace Sparky Lyle tied a major league record by winning for the third time in as many games.

Fred Palek drilled a tie-breaking two-run double and scored on a double by Frank White as Kansas City scored three runs in the sixth inning and held on to edge the Rangers. A double by Joe Lahoud and Darrell Porter's single touched off the Royals' tie-breaking uprising. Winner Jim Colborn needed relief in the seventh after surrendering Toby Harrah's 22nd homer.

Wayne Gross brought Oakland from behind with his first home run in almost six weeks, a two-run shot in the fifth inning. The A's got the winning run in the sixth on Mitchell Page's triple and Jerry Tabb's sacrifice fly for their seventh victory in eight games, a streak that has lifted them out of last place in the West. Larry Hise homered for Minnesota.

Ben Oglivie drove in two runs with a single and his 17th homer while unbeaten Milt Wilcox checked the Brewers on eight hits for his sixth victory since the Tigers brought him back from the minors in June.

Injuries Hit Top Seeds; U.S. Open Nod To Vilas

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Two days ago Guillermo Vilas was stalking the big game at the U.S. Open tennis championships. The faithful, including some of the men he stalks, noticed, but maintained their homages to the obvious contenders — Bjorn Borg of Sweden and Jimmy Connors of Belleville, Ill.

But today, with the two top seeds suffering aches and pains that kept them out of first-day matches, other players were more apprehensive about the prospect of Vilas, who is seeded fourth.

"The way he's playing now, I don't see anyone beating him on clay," said Manuel Santana, the 39-year-old former claycourt giant who was Vilas' victim in the first round at the West Side Tennis Club Wednesday. The triumph was the 40th consecutive on clay for the 25-year-old Argentine.

Vilas disposed of Santana, the 1965 Open champion from Spain, 6-1, 6-0. It looked effortless.

"There is no way you can win a point from him," said Santana. "It seems he has no weaknesses at all."

"I think I played very well," he said, noting Vilas had beaten the Nastase 6-0, 6-2 over the weekend in a round-robin tournament in New York.

The top seeds in the men's and women's divisions were to make their first appearances here today. Connors aggravated a chronic back ailment over the weekend and had to default in the U.S. Pro championships. He was to meet Jaz Singh of Grossinger, N.Y.

Borg, who's had tendonitis in his shoulder and suffered an injured chest muscle in a practice session Tuesday, was to face Trey Walke of St. Louis.

Connors is the defending champion. But Borg, the Wimbledon winner, is seeded first here by virtue of computer rankings.

Chris Evert was to play Sharon Walsh of Mill Valley, Calif., and Virginia Wade, the Wimbledon champion seeded third here, was to face transsexual Renee Richards.

Nastase, the tempestuous Romanian, was on his best behavior Wednesday after trouncing South African Frew McMillan 6-0, 6-4. He said Borg, despite the ailments, is the man to beat.

Vilas, seeded fourth, appears to have a clear route in his own quarter of the draw. Sixth seed Raul Ramirez fell Wednesday to 19-year-old Ricardo Yezza, 6-3, 6-2. No. 14 Ken Rosewall defeated Tim Gullikson 6-0, 6-4

Wednesday but is not counted a strong clay player. Smith was the other seed in that part of the draw.

If Vilas meets Borg, it would be in the semifinals.

Roscoe Tanner, the 11th seed who fought off Matt Mitchell of Palo Alto, Calif., 4-6, 7-8, 6-1, allowed that Vilas has to be considered one of the top four men. He said he is "just one of those people who have some kind of game that bothers me."

In other matches Wednesday, No. 12 Harold Solomon beat Bernie Milton of South Africa, 3-6, 8-3, 7-5 and No. 13 Mark Cox lost to Butch Walls of Athens, Calif., 7-6, 7-8.

In a match of 18-year-olds, John McEnroe of New York — who met Connors in the Wimbledon semifinals — beat Elliot Teltchener of Palos Verdes, Calif., 6-1, 6-3. McEnroe was penalized one point for misconduct after a 10-minute delay in play over a disputed line call.

Heafner Is First Round Victim At U.S. Amateur

NEWTOWN SQUARE, Pa. (AP) — Mike Toomey always has wanted to play in the U.S. National Amateur Golf Championship. He couldn't for two reasons — time and money.

The 30-year-old Toomey, a University of Maryland dropout, finally made it this week at the Araratnik Golf Club in suburban Philadelphia. And if he doesn't win another match in the eight-round tournament, he will have an event to remember.

Toomey turned in the big upset of the first round Wednesday, rallying from three down after nine holes and beating Vance Heafner of Cary, N.C., the Porter Cup champion and a member of last weekend's victorious U.S. Walker Cup team.

"Quite frankly, I couldn't afford to play in the National Amateur," said Toomey, explaining why this was his first try for the nation's top amateur golf prize. "I couldn't afford to join a club affiliated with the USGA."

Toomey, who sells computers in the Washington, D.C. area, finally joined the Croydon, Md., Country Club. He is between jobs now, which provided time.

In another highlight of the first round over Araratnik's 6,500-yard course, defending champion Bill Sander of Kenmore, Wash., was carried to sudden death by little-known Radford Yarn of Grossinger's, N.Y. It took a great shot for Sander to bail out on the 18th, and he won when he matched par and Yarn bogeyed the extra hole.

Four of Sander's Walker Cup teammates also advanced to the second round — Scott Simpson of San Diego; Gary Hallberg, Barrington, Ill.; Lindy Miller, Fort Worth, Tex.; and Mike Brannan, Salinas, Calif.

A southwestern Michigan representative in the tournament, Doug Fischesser of Niles, also advanced with a first round victory.

British Walker Cup players, fresh from losing to the Americans, got three players into round two and lost two. Winners were Peter Deblle, and Michael Kelley of England, and Ian Hutcheon of Scotland. Losers were two Scots, Allan Brodie and Paul McKellar.

Other premier amateurs who won before play was stopped because of rain and darkness were: John Grace, Fort Worth, Tex., a runner-up in the Amateur three years ago; Bill Campbell, Huntington, W.Va., a former Amateur champion; Doug Clarke, San Diego, the Southern California champion, and Hal Sutton, Louisiana state champion.

Oh Ties HR Mark

Japanese baseball super star Sadaharu Oh tied Hank Aaron's home run record of 755 Wednesday night with a two-run shot at Korakuen Stadium in Tokyo. The 288-foot home run into the rightfield stands before a crowd of 50,000 came in the 2,437th professional game and 7,871st time at bat for the Japan-born Chinese slugger who is playing his 19th season with the Tokyo-based Yomiuri Giants.

Big Bears Anchor St. Joe's Defense

Tackles Weigh 249 And 236

There will be some big, and hopefully had, Bears in the St. Joseph defensive line this season.

Returning tackle Ken Fetke, a 249-pound senior, is the largest football player coach Mike Muhlenkamp has had in his 10 seasons at St. Joe.

"He's up to 249 and doesn't look fat...he's all man," declares Muhlenkamp. "He works hard and is looking pretty good."

Muhlenkamp also has his largest tackle combination ever with 236-pound senior letterman Brian LaSota at the other tackle slot.

"Inside we are big but a little slower than we normally are," cautions the Bear mentor. "But, hopefully, our linebackers will make up for that."

St. Joe does have two promising linebackers in returning regulars David Kirk (185) and Brian Hansen (189).

"They are quick and they are aggressive," Muhlenkamp says. "They are fairly small, but they are good tacklers. They led us in tackles last year."

The other defensive regular back from last season's 6-3 squad is senior strong safety Doug Vernon, who started three games last fall before suffering a broken ankle.

Steve Eckert also started at the monster position the last three games in 1976, but he probably will start this season on offense at fullback.

Leading candidates to join Fetke and LaSota on the defensive line are Rob Ritt (167 pounds) at middle guard and Jerry Jones (175), Carl Czirr (181) or Mike Cox (189) at ends.

Top prospects for secondary spots with Vernon are Eddie Lekan at monster man, Gregg Averill or Jeff Zych at free safety and Keene Taylor at free safety.

"Inexperience is our problem in the secondary," continues Muhlenkamp. "but I think we will have a good secondary."

Other Bears tying for defensive starting positions are tackles Bruce Carlson, Erick Wolff, Jeff Karns, Steve Hartman and Tim Gay; ends Mark Crist, Mark Zaeha, Matt Finch and Ken Jewell, and middle guards Bryan Brown and Don Hoopes. Tom Redman, Don Fodor, Jeff Kessel and Rick Blake should provide linebacker help, while secondary depth will come from Kevin Piolet, Kevin Wheeler, Al Vossler, Shawn Kile, Howard Staver, Steve Southland, Todd Nisbet and Greg Schrubba.

"We think now we will be going two platoons with the exception of two or three spots," adds Muhlenkamp. "The interior line is developing more depth, especially on defense."

On the negative side, Muhlenkamp believes the defense must still "get better playing as a total unit. Last year our team was exceptional in that one thing... which made us good on defense."

The defense got its first real test today in a scrimmage against Benton Harbor, Lake Michigan Catholic and Brandywine. The season starts Sept. 9 against Lakeshore.

Big Time Golf At Flint Again

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — It was a compact instead of a sedan, but it still brought a large smile to the face of Flint Elks Club pro Larry Mancour today when some big-name golfers teed off in the $100,000 Buick Open.

"I've hardly had a night's sleep in the past four or five weeks," Mancour said. "Every night it seems like I'd wake up and remember something I should have done."

The tournament was a regular stop on the PGA tour for 12 years when it was played a few miles away at Warwick Hills Country Club. But the Buick Motor Division of General Motors Corp. withdrew its sponsorship in 1969.

That was the same year the ill-fated Michigan Golf Classic made history by failing to provide a paycheck to the winner. Michigan has only hosted one major tournament since — the 1972 National PGA Championship at Oakland Hills about 45 miles down Interstate 75.

But all that time Mancour, once a touring pro, dreamed of one day bringing big time golf back to the state and particularly to Flint — a thriving industrial city about an hour's drive north of Detroit.

He staged a "little" Buick Open as a satellite tour event every summer, hustling during his stint on the PGA's winter tour and scrambling to Canada to pick up players who failed to qualify for the Canadian Open.

Sponsors varied and so did the prize money. One year, the total prize was $2,500. Another year, suburban Flint Buick dealer Vern Parsell donated most of the purse and the Flint Elks rescued the tournament more than once.

"It was so much work," Mancour reflected, "and sometimes I'd ask myself if it was all worth it. Now I know it was."

Mancour's satellite event got a big boost in 1973 when an unheralded young player named John Mahaffey played local favorite Gary Groh to the final hole before losing when Groh holed his chip shot for an eagle and a two-shot victory. Mahaffey went on to become a star on the PGA major circuit and people began paying attention to the Buick once again.

Dave Hill, the old Buick's last winner in 1968, lured a crowd of almost 8,000 fans on the final day of last year's event and heads were turned at Buick headquarters.

Following a chance in top management, the automaker put $100,000 in front of the PGA last fall and won this weekend's spot on the calendar — opposite the $300,000 World Series of Golf in Akron, Ohio.

"I really think the Flint area is ripe for big time golf," Mancour said. "Our community was really turned on by the old Buick Open and now we've come back to the big time."

"We know we're going against a bigger event down at Akron, but we've got a darn good field here and we're going to have some super golf."

MACHINE SHOP TRAINING PROGRAM

The Berrien County Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) Program is funding machine shop training offered by the Buchanan Community Schools. The training is designed to provide the trainees job entry skills that will allow them to enter the vocational area of production of machine operations. Eligibility requirements are:

- Participants must be a resident of Berrien County
- Must have high school diploma or GED completion
- Must be unemployed for at least seven days, or
- Underemployed, or
- Econ Economically disadvantaged.

Classes begin October 3 and will be held in Buchanan High School during the evening hours. After completion of the 26 week course, trainees should have knowledge of operating machine tools such as drill presses, grinders and lathes as well as the production of metal parts. Trainees will also have in instruction in blueprints and drawings.

Interested participants should apply at the Niles MESC Office, 1927 Oak Street, Niles, and talk to Annie Williams or Shirley Wirick.

Nicklaus, Watson Leading World Series Contenders

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Jack Nicklaus and Tom Watson, the current ruler of world golf and the man who would replace him, head an international field of 20 players for Friday's start of the $300,000 World Series of Golf.

It is the last time Nicklaus and Watson are expected to face each other this year, and there is the distinct possibility they could look up in another dramatic duel, such as the ones that saw Watson win the Masters and British Open.

And it is almost certain that, between them, they will decide Player of the Year honors and the money winning champion in the exclusive event that is designed as a climax to the golf season.

Presently, Watson has the inside track on both. A Nicklaus victory — and he has to be considered the favorite — could change things dramatically.

In addition to the two major titles that stamped him as the most likely successor to Nicklaus' long-time position as the game's top performer, Watson has won three American events this year and collected a leading $298,428. Nicklaus is a three-time winner on the U.S. tour and trails Watson on the money winning list with $273,343.

Should Watson win, he would have both titles clinched.

A Nicklaus victory, however, almost certainly would make him the leading money winner (for the ninth time), would give him a record single-season accumulation and would put him in position to challenge Watson for Player of the Year honors. The biggest prize in golf, $100,000, awaits the winner.

Watson, among others, objects.

"The money should be unofficial," Watson said before a practice round over the 7,130-yard, par 70 South course at the Firestone Country Club.

"The leading money winner has been looked on as the outstanding player of the year. Now, with all this money in one event, you can play in one tournament and beat somebody who's won three or four tournaments. That's not right."

"The World Series is a great event, on a great golf course, with a great format. I like everything about it but the money. It should be unofficial."

Four Area Yachts In Tri-State Race

Four area yachts are entered in the annual Tri-State Labor Day weekend sailing race.

Participating in the Chicago to St. Joseph, St. Joseph to Michigan City and Michigan City to Chicago races will be the Leprechaun, owned by Weldon Regan of Benton Harbor; Cynthia, owned by Fred Groendorst of St. Joseph; Eloise, owned by Bob Drazak of Benton Harbor, and Exodus, owned by Jim Stancik of Stevensville.

The fleet is scheduled to leave Chicago at about 8 p.m. Friday and arrive at St. Joe early Saturday morning. After a pancake breakfast starting at 7 a.m. Saturday — which is open to the public — and other festivities, the yachts will set sail for Michigan City at 10 a.m. Sunday. The Michigan City to Chicago leg will follow at 11 a.m. Monday.

The Tri-State is sponsored by three Chicago yacht clubs — the Columbia Yacht Club, the Chicago Yacht Club and the Jackson Park Yacht Club. Each is in charge of one leg.

Five Knuth Boys Leading Fister's Into State Action

By JACK WALKDEN
Staff Sports Writer

Who's on first. What's on second. And I don't know's on third.

That baseball dialogue from the old Abbott and Costello series could be used for the Fister's Realty fast pitch softball team.

With the five Knuth brothers starting for Fister's, one almost appears to be seeing double at times.

Fister's is one of three area fast pitch softball teams seeking honors this weekend in state-wide tournaments. Fister's will be competing in the Class B state tournament at Traverse City.

Plangger's will participate in the Class AA regional tournament at Saginaw, while Bargain Center will be in the Class B women's state tournament in Coldwater.

Fister's boasts a 25-16 record going into the state tourney and the Knuth brothers have played a big role in the team's success. The brothers range in ages from 37 to 17 and all are hitting .304 or higher. Fred, the oldest at 37, is hitting .318. Following Fred in age is Dan, 31, the team's top hitter with a .412 batting average and seven homers. Dave, 27, is hitting .284, while Mike, 22, is at .388 and Paul, 17, at .350.

"It's all been good," Fred says of the family affair. "We've been pulling for a common cause and for each other to do well. We've been a fairly close family and it's helped to keep the team close."

Fred organized the team three years ago, hoping to use it to keep the family close.

"I organized the team partially with that in mind," he says. "I wanted to keep the brothers together in a softball team which is hard to do when someone else is running the team. This was a sure way of keeping us together without having everyone go in different directions.

"It gives us a chance to get together quite often and to travel together. We've been fairly successful, too. Without the team we probably would not still be as close."

All five of the brothers attended St. Joe high school except for Fred, who went to a private school in Milwaukee. All five played basketball and baseball in high school, and Dan and Dave also were members of the football team.

Fister's record is somewhat misleading this season. The team finished with just a 1-9 record in the rugged Michigan Traveling League, made up mostly of Class AA teams.

Fister's finished second to Class A powerhouse Fayette Bar of Niles in the Niles Fast Pitch Softball League and won the Fourth of July Stroh's Invitational at Niles.

All five brothers still live in St. Joe. Fred is a teacher at Christ Lutheran Grade School. Dan works in the computer center at Whirlpool in St. Joe. Dave is employed by Gast Manufacturing in Benton Harbor. Mike is finishing his second year at Lake Michigan College and Paul will be a senior this fall at St. Joe high.

"With all five of us playing together it has helped to give us team unity and spirit," Fred says. "We all have a common interest in sports."

Plangger's will take a 53-33 record into the regional in hopes of gaining a spot in the national tournament.

Plangger's opens play Friday night against Day's Sanitation of Pontiac, which finished third in last year's national tourney.

"We have to have better hitting," sponsor Rich Plangger says. "I feel our pitching is adequate. But the hitting has to be more timely. If you get two hits after two are out, it doesn't do you much good."

Plangger's is batting just .240 as a team with only rightfielder Jeff Weaver hitting above .300. Weaver will move to shortstop for the tourney.

Bargain Center takes an impressive 31-9 record into the women's tourney. Bargain Center won the Plangger's League with a 9-1 mark and finished with a better-than-expected 9-7 record in the tough 1-84 Traveling League.

Outfielder Kim Doty leads Bargain Center with a .500 batting average. Following Doty are third baseman Deb Schroid (.423), second baseman Kristine Stover (.400), catcher Joan Aalls (.388), outfielder Jody Rabbers (.325) and shortstop Patience Vanderbush (.305). Most of the pitching chores will fall on Chana Smith (15-2).

Bertuca, Thompson's Seek National Honors

Bertuca Bonding and Thompson's Supermarket will be after national slow pitch softball honors this weekend.

Bertuca's will compete in the World 18-inch Slow Pitch Softball Championships at St. Louis, Mo. Thompson's of Buchanan will travel to Richmond, Va. for the National 12-inch Slow Pitch Championships.

Three other area slow pitch teams will compete for state honors. Ken's Foodtown of Benton Harbor will travel to Jackson for the Class B tourney. Ray's Uptown of Edwardsburg will be in Portage for the Class

C championships. Niles Merchants go to Grand Ledge for the Class D tourney.

Bertuca's will take an outstanding 105-20 record into its opener against Oregon. Bertuca's beat the same Oregon team 24-1 in last year's World tourney. Ted Bertuca's team is hoping for a rematch with defending World champs, the Bobcats from Chicago. The two met in the finals of the fourth annual Twin City Softball Open last weekend. When the game was halted by rain in the fourth inning the score was 0-0.

Outfielders Greg Shushman and Roy Arms, catcher Jim Duschka, third baseman Tony Pastrick and first baseman Ron Lange are all hitting better than .500 for Bertuca's.

But coach Ted Bertuca feels that defense will be his team's key, especially up the middle.

"We're strong defensively up the middle," Bertuca says. "Pitcher Zeke Zebell, second baseman Herb Dorgelo, shortstop Ron Kelley and centerfield Greg Shushman don't get much recognition."

"Kelley is the finest fielding shortstop I've ever seen. Zebell covers so much ground that it's like having a fifth infielder. Dorgelo has refined the art of turning the double play and Shushman covers a lot of ground in center."

Thompson's will be competing in the nationals for the second straight year. Coach Gene Aalls is hopeful that his team will fare better than last season's effort, when Thompson's dropped two out of three.

"I think playing in the nationals last year will help because it will take the edge off," Aalls says. "With a few breaks I think we can go quite a ways. Overall we've matured and don't get rattled when we fall behind. And maturity is going to mean a lot."

Thompson's, now 45-9, boasts a .522 team batting mark with eight regulars hitting better than .500. George Dreitzler (.585) and Dave Shoemaker (.573) lead the way. Following close behind are Larry Lloyd (.557), Larry Schrimsher (.548), Ron Aalls (.547), Matt Caldwell (.546), Glen Benko (.515) and Steve Klingerman (.510). Benko is in the process of moving, however, and may miss the nationals.

Ken's Foodtown, 67-37, played in Class A last year but was beaten in the districts by Thompson's. Ken's will open against Rainbow Inn of Brimley in the Upper Peninsula Saturday morning.

Larry Gilson is the top Ken's hitter with a .582 batting mark. Bob Doehrer follows with a .547 average, while Jerry Neigh is hitting .530 and Phil Driver .505. Neigh tops Ken's with 32 homers.

Ray's Uptown has used sparkling defense to post a 36-20 record. Ray's has committed just over one error per game. Jon Horvath is the only hitter above .500 with a .655 batting average. Dick Cox follows with a .483 mark, while Dave Stiffler is at .475 and Craig Kretschman .431. Kretschman will miss the state tourney after getting married last week.

Niles Merchants boast a 21-10 record and finished second to Mr. K's in the Niles Slow Pitch Softball League.

Tim Dill, Kevin Latinslaw, Mike Thornton and Bob Crocker have been the top sluggers for Niles, which won five straight in capturing the district.

Started U.S. Soccer Boom

Toye Brought In Pele

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

It started as the mere germ of an idea in the moonish head of a transported Englishman and it erupted into what we are breathlessly calling today "the soccer explosion in the United States."

Clive Toye, you pulled it off. This is your life.

"Eight years ago when we were operating on a shoestring I said to myself that there was only one way to popularize soccer in this country," the 44-year-old former British journalist said, "and that was to bring in the only player known to American sports fans — the great Pele."

"I made it my personal mission. I chased him all around the world. I badgered, enticed and begged. Finally, he agreed. What happened this season — the 77,000 and 88,000 turnouts at the Meadowlands — proved to be justification for this dream."

Nursemaid of the North American Soccer League in its infancy, Toye leaves his post as president of the champion Cosmos Oct. 1 to become president and part owner of the Chicago Sting — a new adventure.

"In 1969, we were a two-man league," he said as he prepared to clean out his desk in his Rockefeller Plaza headquarters. "Phil Wussman was executive director. I was director of administration and public relations, what there was of it."

"We had five teams — Atlanta, St. Louis, Dallas, Kansas City and Baltimore. Average attendance was around 1,500. Our office was the visitors' lockerroom in Atlanta Stadium. We had one secretary and two telephones. Our budget was around $75,000 a year, which included sandwiches, Danish and coffee."

Toye recalls that it was a hardy band of pioneers who kept the sport going in those days.

"Players, who weren't making much money, were jumping around the country, conducting clinics and introducing soccer to kids in grade schools and on playgrounds. The kids loved it. So did the parents. That was our base. But we needed a stimulus."

That stimulus, Toye recognized from the start, had to be Brazil's Edison Arantes do Nascimento — better known as Pele — the greatest soccer player in the world. It was a name that conjured up visions of remarkable skills from Tokyo to Timbuktu, Manchester to Madagascar.

"I began pursuing Pele in 1969 and I intensified my efforts after he led Brazil to the World Cup title in 1970 in Mexico City," Toye said. "In February, 1971, I flew to Jamaica to talk about coming to the United States."

"The first reaction was not overly optimistic."

"Pele listened and was very polite," Toye said. "But he didn't show much interest. He listened to my story and looked at me as if to say, 'Why me?'"

"In 1971, he quit the national team and in October, 1974, he announced his retirement from competition. That was a signal for me to go after him. I met him in Frankfurt, later in Santos, Sao Paulo, Rome, Buenos Aires and Toronto."

"My pitch was always the same: 'You are the only man who can make soccer a big time sport in the United States.' Finally, in March, 1975, in Brussels, his resistance weakened. 'I understand,' he said. 'What do you offer?'"

Toye almost broke a speed record rushing back to confer with Chairman of the Board Steve Ross and executive officer Jay Emmett of Warner Communications, the giant conglomerate which owns the Cosmos.

"They asked, 'Who is Pele?'" Toye said. "I explained. They said, 'If he's that important, get him.'"

Pele signed a staggering $4.7 million contract, intending to play only two years. He played three.

"It's not what Pele did on the field — it's the magnetism he generated among young players, the press and the fans," Toye said. "Now we have a thriving league of 18 teams and fans numbering in the millions. New stars are developing every day."

"In eight years we have leaped from 2,000 spectators a game to 77,000. It is staggering to contemplate what will happen in the next 10 years."

Hambletonian Possible Problem For Haughton

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP) — A Sweet Sixteen field of 3-year-old trotters could sour Billy Haughton's bid Saturday to win the Hambletonian for the second straight time and for the third year in the last four.

The Hall of Famer, who will drive Green Speed, winner of last Saturday's Yonkers Trot, had hoped the race would be split into two divisions as it was when he won his first Hambletonian with Christopher T.

But 16 were entered Wednesday, one short of the number required to split the race, meaning Haughton would have to battle a large field for at least two heats and possibly three like he did last year in Steve Lobell's four-heat victory.

The 16 starters, which include Cold Comfort, Reprise and Jodelvin, will race two heats on the Du Quoin State Fairgrounds' one-mile track, and if the same colts win both heats, the Hambletonian is over. If there are different winners, then all the horses, come back for a third heat. Still another winner forces a decisive fourth heat involving the three heat winners.

In 1976, Steve Lobell drew the No. 3 post in an 18-horse field — at the time it took 20 to split the race — and finished 14th in the first heat. He won the second heat, finished fourth in the third heat, won the decisive three-horse raceoff, then collapsed from the effects of the hot weather.

So Haughton and several other drivers and trainers were hoping for a split race in which a horse would not have to race more than three heats. Christopher T. did it in two heats in 1973 when the race was split into two 11-horse divisions.

Badger AD Backs Basketball Playoff

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Big Ten Commissioner Wayne Duke's recent proposal that the conference adopt a postseason basketball tournament is "a great idea," University of Wisconsin Athletic Director Elroy Hirsch said Wednesday.

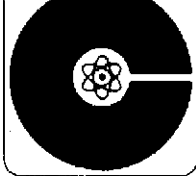

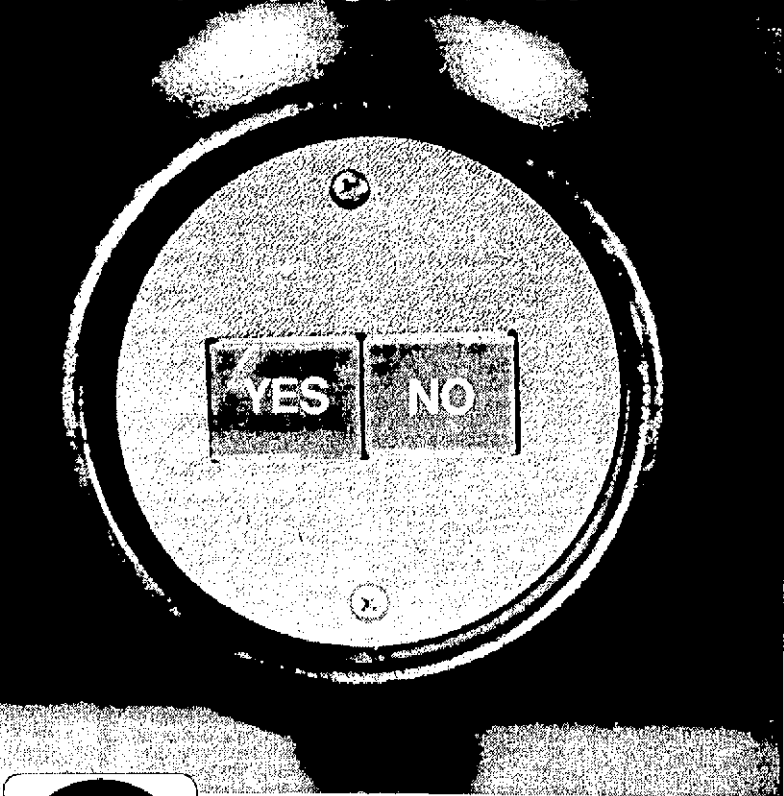

"Number one, it keeps interest up all year," Hirsch said. "If you're out of the Big Ten race and have no chance at an NCAA berth, interest goes. With a postseason tournament, everybody's got a chance."

"Secondly, from a monetary standpoint, it's been proven in other conferences to be a great thing."

However, Hirsch said he would have reservations if such a tournament cut into class time for players.

The UW Athletic Board will decide the university's official position on the matter.

Harris Has Big Motive

LOS ANGELES (AP) — James Harris firmly believes he was treated unfairly by the Los Angeles Rams and should have continued as their No. 1 quarterback.

"Tonight he'll try to prove his point as he runs the offense for the San Diego Chargers in the Los Angeles Coliseum, opposing the Rams who employed him for three seasons.

This preseason, Harris has completed 27 of his 48 pass attempts for 331 yards and three touchdowns. He's been intercepted three times as the Chargers split four decisions.

Pat Haden, the former Rose Bowl star from Southern California, took over late last season as the starting Los Angeles quarterback and this preseason has hit 22 of 42 passes for 334 yards and three touchdowns, also with three interceptions.

Veteran Joe Namath will play the second half against the Chargers in his bid to dislodge Haden from the No. 1 position. Namath is 12 for 27 with the Rams with one touchdown pass and two interceptions.

Another Rams starter of 1976, tight end Bob Klein, will be in a San Diego uniform. The club promises that he'll see service against his former teammates.

Klein announced he was retiring after failing to reach contract agreement with the Rams. Los Angeles then traded negotiating rights to the Chargers, who signed him for a reported $125,000.

Although Harris is slated to start at quarterback for San Diego, Coach Tommy Prothro, formerly of UCLA and the Rams, is expected to use rookie Cliff Olander from New Mexico State in the second half. Olander stands 6-5 and weighs 196.

Los Angeles has been disappointing in the preseason with a 1-3 record, the worst since Chuck Knox took over four years ago. He can be expected to use his veterans and other probable starters much more than in the previous exhibition games.

The Rams' backfield will have Lawrence McCutcheon and John Cappelletti starting at halfback and fullback, the combination expected to start the season. And Rich Saul, the regular center last year who was a holdout this fall, comes back to open at center.

McCutcheon, who had been nursing a hamstring injury, worked nearly a half against Kansas City last week in a 27-19 loss and gained 47 yards in 10 carries.

Rookie Wendell Tyler leads the Rams' rushing attack with 166 yards on 30 carries.

On Saturday, Tampa Bay is at Buffalo, San Francisco at Oakland, New Orleans at Miami, Minnesota at Cincinnati, Dallas at Houston, and Cleveland at Green Bay.

On Sunday, New York Jets play the New York Giants and Washington meets New England.

Atlanta plays at Kansas City Monday night.

NFL QBs Fall As Teams Cut

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

One quarterback's gain turned out to be another quarterback's loss as more National Football League teams announced roster reductions to reach the limit of 52 players.

Gary Marang, the 25-year-old backup quarterback at Buffalo, was traded to Green Bay for an undisclosed draft choice, giving the Packers a surplus of passing arms.

Pleasant Problem For U.S.

DUESSELDORF, West Germany (AP) — United States head Coach Al Huntsman says the only problem the American track and field team has going into the first World Cup meet is an abundance of talent.

"The Americans trained lightly Wednesday in preparation for the three days of competition at the Rhine Stadium against the top world track and field stars. The Cup runs Friday through Sunday.

"Everyone is fine, we have no injuries and no hard training to worry about," said Huntsman, a 45-year-old head coach at the University of Tennessee.

"Our only concern is to name some of the competitors for the events. We have great depth and talent but we cannot field them all."

The main decision concerned the men's 200-meters and the two men's relays. The choice involves Steve Williams, the San Diego star who has been entered in the 100 meters. Also being considered are Clancy Edwards, who clearly beat Cuban sprinter Silvio Leonard at the World University Games in Sofia last week, and Steve Riddick.

The 200 meters is considered one of the highlights of the Cup, with the Americans battling to win back the sprint supremacy they lost at the Olympics in Munich in 1972 and in Montreal last year.

Leonard and Pietro Mennea of Italy are rated among the contenders.

Huntsman said the East Germans and a European-selected team would be the strongest squads besides the Americans in both the men's and women's divisions.

Huntsman said he found the weather in Dusseldorf perfect and the conditions ripe for world-record performances.

former quarterbacking great of the Packers.

"We just felt that, looking at our ball club analytically, this was a better arrangement for us," said Starr, now Green Bay's head coach.

The Packers signed Johnson as a free agent last Nov. 16 after regular quarterback Lynn Dickey suffered a separated shoulder. Johnson, started Green Bay's final game, a 24-20 victory over Atlanta, and was impressive in this year's training camp.

"We were pleased to have Randy late last season, and he contributed a great deal to our final victory," Starr said. "However, we also have to think about our future."

Joe Gilliam is also thinking about the future today. He's out of a job, ending, for the moment, his comeback from drug addiction.

Gilliam, a promising quarterback with Pittsburgh before drugs ambushed his career, had cleansed his system and was given a chance with New Orleans. But, after a strong start in training camp, the man they called "Jefferson Street Joe" began missing practices and team meetings.

"I fulfilled the promise and responsibility I made to him a year ago," New Orleans Coach Hank Stram said following the announcement. "I have no regrets whatsoever. I'm just very sorry it didn't work out."

Another quarterback without a team is Steve Spurrier, who was waived by the Denver Broncos after a tryout. Spurrier played last year for Tampa Bay Buccaneers, who finished 0-14 in their first NFL season.

Winston Hill, Joe Namath's body guard for so many years with the New York Jets, was waived by Miami. Hill, an offensive tackle, had been traded by the Jets after 14 seasons.

The Jets traded kick return specialist Lou Piccone to Buffalo for a draft choice. Buffalo also cut defensive end Billy Newsome, a former Jet.

In other cuts around the league, St. Louis dropped linebacker Al Benchemp, who was in his 10th year; Atlanta cut rookie quarterback June Jones, and Kansas City cut quarterback Mike Nott.

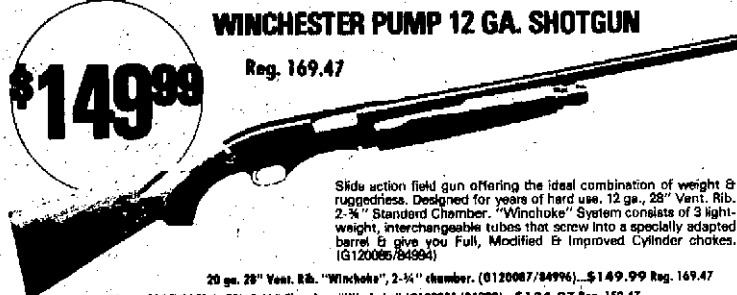

All-pro linebacker Jack Lambert is a happy man after signing a contract reportedly worth $1.2 million over a five-year period.

"This contract is going to make Jack the highest paid defensive player in the game," said Bucky Woy, Lambert's agent.

Rookie Dealer Affirms 'House' Has Best Odds

By GARY PEDERSEN
Associated Press Writer

RENO, Nev. (AP) — You'd think Harold's Club was taking a big chance, letting a greenhorn deal blackjack with the casino's money. But it's clear now even a beginner can sustain what everyone should know: the odds are with the house.

After two hours, the table had about as much money as when the novice began dealing — $3,000 or so.

One thing's for sure. The world of the casino is different from the dealer's side of the green felt table. The noise melts away, the room seems smaller and time is not important. And dealing cards to customers anxious to win big money is not at all like dealing a poker hand to the boys Saturday night.

When Harold's Club, one of Reno's oldest casinos, tussled out the challenge — deal, with their money — at the club one afternoon, well, who could pass

First there was a crash course on dealing — covering things like the shuffle, doubling down, splitting cards, table etiquette and more.

You think you know how to deal 21? Try it with five people staring at you. The palms sweat, the cards clump as they're shuffled or buckle under pressure.

Nevertheless, the greenhorn stumbles through four shuffles, strips the deck, turns it, let a player cut. Then he burns the top card, checks the bets and deals.

Professionals run through the procedure in seconds. It took your novice longer.

After two hours' dealing, the shoulders were stiff, the eyes strained, the body moist and the mind filled with a new appreciation for what thousands do daily.

Several veteran gamblers — they looked that way — played only a single hand at the beginner's $1 table. Others, told what was going on, stayed.

They got a kick out of it, and as assistant floorman Bill Parga watched, correcting mistakes, the players learned some things they weren't aware of. Parga, for example, spread a new deck on the table, explaining it must be checked front and back for irregularities.

"Sometimes we get two aces of the same suit or a card with a name other than Harold's on the back," he said.

"Why do you turn the cards after stripping them?" asked one player.

"That's so the deck is always changed, just in case someone is marking," Parga replied.

Watch a dealer some time, notice how smoothly he or she picks up the bet or pays it, then deftly gathers the cards to the discard tray.

The greenhorn tried. Cards went one way, money another. The money was miscounted, a bet or two mispaid. But Harold's money was safe — Parga was there.

Reno's A Gambling Boomtown

By GARY PEDERSEN
Associated Press Writer

RENO, Nev. (AP) — The skyline of this once sleepy city in northern Nevada most well known for divorce has the look of big money these days.

Looming just east of downtown is the MGM Grand Hotel Casino — the world's biggest casino — scheduled for opening next year. It's costing about $114 million and investors expect a quick return.

In addition, seven other hotel-casino projects are under way in the "Biggest Little City in the World."

building all these new casinos because gambling is a losing operation."

But with development has come concern the area can't handle the rapid growth, can't supply water and necessary services — and isn't emotionally ready for the boom.

"Now it's growing so fast here that ordinary working people who'll get these new jobs being created won't be able to afford a house," said Barbara Bennett, who ran unsuccessfully for the City Council as an opponent of the building boom.

Nevertheless, hammerhead cranes and the steel skeletons of high-rise buildings mark the downtown area. Besides the

Millions Going For New Casinos

is working on a sizable expansion, and so is Harrah's in downtown Reno.

City officials say much of the construction money is coming from Reno and its banks. Investors have known for years that solid gaming operations in central Reno are money-makers. Harrah's, for example, announced recently its earnings for the 1978-79 fiscal year were $4 million more than the year before.

Those who want to see Reno stay the way it was, with guest ranches and lots of room on the meandering Truckee River, say development is causing a growth pattern the area can't handle.

With completion of the work will come an estimated 10,000 jobs, officials estimate, and experts predict those people could require 40,000 more service-related jobs in the future.

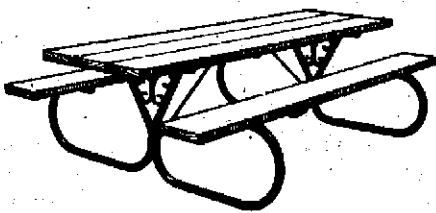

Reno's population today is about 170,000, and forecasts indicate another 30,000 residents by 1990. For a while this year, building in the Truckee Meadows residential area was halted by city councils in Reno and neighboring Sparks. Both held there wasn't enough capacity in the cities' joint sewer plant to accommodate new customers.

Businessmen, builders and unions were up in arms. Before the move, residents of both cities voted down a $7 million bond issue to double the size of the sewer plant. The issue came up again after the building moratorium was passed.

Richard Allen, director of the Reno, Sparks and Washoe County planning agencies, said the changes are part of life and business.

U.S. Food Program Includes 24 Schools In Berrien

By RALPH LUTZ
Staff Writer
Twenty-four public and parochial schools in the Berrien county Intermediate school district will participate this year in the federal school food service program, according to James W. Walton, administrative asstant to the district. Walton said participation permits children from low income families to receive free or reduced price meals. Walton said school lunch and milk programs are operated under the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The program in Michigan is administered through the State Department of Education. Walton said income ranges for free or reduced lunches, and milk are set by the state education department, but within rules set by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. He said while income ranges for those eligible vary somewhat across the nation, the range is only slight.

Besides the 24 Berrien county schools participating in the lunch program, another 10 are participating in the special milk program.

Among Berrien county schools last year, daily average participation in the meal service program totaled 23,127, according to Intermediate district statistics. Of the total, 8,378, or 36.23 per cent were free or reduced price lunches.

Benton Harbor Area schools, the largest district in the county, last year had the highest participation with 5,210. Of these, 3,862, or 75 per cent, qualified for free or reduced price lunches.

In St. Joseph public schools, daily average participation was 2,288, with 372, or 17 per cent eligible for free or reduced lunch prices.

Corresponding figures for other Twin Cities area schools were, Coloma, 1,327 participants, 334 eligible, or 25 per cent; Eau Claire, 551 participants, 107 eligible, or 19 per cent; Watervliet, 779 participants, 189, or 24 per cent eligible; and Lakeshore, 2,211 participants, and 242 eligible, or 10 per cent — the lowest percentage in Berrien county.

The statistics show that parochial schools had the fewest number of students in the food service program.

Walton said children from families whose income is at or below the state schedule are eligible for meals free or at reduced price, not to exceed 20 cents per lunch or 10 cents per breakfast.

Families not meeting this criterion may apply if they have other unusual expenses, due to high medical bills, shelter costs in excess of 30 per cent of income, special education expenses due to mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses. In certain cases, foster children are eligible, Walton said.

Walton said the program is operated without discrimination against the families. He said to safeguard their identities, children receiving free or reduced price meals are treated in the same manner as full-paying students. Letters of explanation and application forms will be sent home to families, Walton said. The forms should be completed and returned to the building principal.

Additional application blanks also are available at the local school building principal's office. Applications may be submitted any time during the school year. The information provided on the application will be confidential and used only to determine eligibility, Walton said.

Walton said local school officials, usually the principal, will review applications and determine eligibility. An approval or denial form will be sent to parents. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling, he may make a request, either orally or in writing to the superintendent for a hearing appeal. Hearing procedures are outlined in school policies.

Berrien county public schools participating in the food service program are:

Benton Harbor Area schools; Berrien County Intermediate; Berrien Springs; Brandywine schools; Bridgman; Buchanan community; Coloma community; Eau Claire; Gallien township; Lakeshore; New Buffalo Area schools; Niles community; River Valley; St. Joseph; Watervliet. Also the following parochial schools: Lake Michigan Catholic elementary school; Lake Michigan Catholic high school; Trinity Lutheran school, St. Joseph; St. Paul's Lutheran school, Stevensville; Christ Lutheran school, Stevensville; Trinity Lutheran school, Stevensville.

Sawyer; Seventh-day Adventist school, Berrien Springs; Immanuel Lutheran school, Bridgman; Andrews university school, Berrien Springs. Schools participating in the special milk program are: Grace Lutheran school, St. Joseph; St. Paul's Lutheran school, St. Paul; St. Mary of the Lake school, New Buffalo; Trinity Lutheran school, Berrien Springs; St. Mary Catholic school, Niles; St. Joseph Catholic school, Watervliet; Niles Seventh-day Adventist school; F.B. Garrett Seventh-day Adventist school, Benton Harbor; Riverside school (Hager number 6); and Grace Lutheran school, Eau Claire.

Van Buren, Cass Allegan Schools Get Lunch Aid

By RALPH LUTZ
Staff Writer

The federal food service program serving children of low income families is widely used by public and parochial schools throughout Van Buren, Cass and Allegan counties.

The Van Buren Intermediate school district reported that the subsidized lunch program was used last year by 41 schools, and the milk program in six others.

In Cass county, five public schools used the lunch program, while one parochial school used the milk program.

The Allegan county Intermediate school district said eight public schools and two parochial schools used the lunch program last year, while five parochial schools and one public school participated in only the milk program.

The number of participating students was not compiled by any of the county Intermediate school district offices, it was reported.

In Van Buren county, the lunch program was used by the Intermediate school district, and the following public schools: Bangor, Blumingtondale, Covert, Gobles, Hartford, Lawton, Lawrence, Paw Paw, Mat-tawan consolidated and South Haven.

Participating in the milk program only were the Decatur public schools, St. Mary's Catholic school, Paw Paw; Faith Baptist Academy, Mattawan; St. Basil's, South Haven; St. Paul's Lutheran school, South Haven; and Hartford Seventh-day Adventist school.

In Cass county, the lunch program was used in the Lewis C. Cass Intermediate school Cassopolis districts, and all other public schools: Cassopolis public schools; Dowagiac Union schools; Edwardsburg public schools; and Marcellus community schools.

The special milk program was used at Glenwood Union Seventh-day Adventist school, Dowagiac.

In Allegan county, the lunch program was used by the county Intermediate school district; and public school districts at Plainwell, Otsego, Allegan, Wayland, Fennville, Martin, and Hopkins, and also at St. Therese Catholic school, Wayland; and St. Stanislaus Catholic school, Dorr.

The milk program was used at Glenn public schools; St. Margaret school, Otsego; East Martin Christian school, Martin; Holy Family Catholic school, Byron Center; and Moline Christian school, Moline.

Police Fear Killer Will Strike Again

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP) — The trail seems to get colder every day, but police still are worried that the Oakland County child killer will strike again.

If the child killer doesn't strike again, says Jerry Tobias, someone else probably will.

Tobias, a member of the Oakland County child murders task force, said Wednesday more than 700 children in the Woodward Avenue corridor from Eight Mile Road to Square Lake roads have been approached by strangers with various lures in the past year.

Tobias issued the warning as hundreds of thousands of Detroit area children prepared to return to school.

Tobias is a psychologist assigned to the special 30-member law enforcement group trying to solve the kidnap-murders of four children believed to be victims of the same slayer over the past 18 months. The killer's most recent victim is believed to have been Timothy King, whose body was found March 23, a week after he was abducted. An autopsy showed he was smothered.

In probing the murders, the task force has gathered a huge amount of data about child molesters.

Tobias said the task force found out about many of the more than 700 incidents only after task force members visited schools.

"Parents have to do a better job of communicating with their children," said Tobias. "Youngsters are afraid to talk with their parents."

"Many times, a child is afraid to tell the parents that someone tried to pick them up. The kids are fearful their parents will prevent them from walking to school, going to nearby baseball fields or even walking to the corner drugstore."

Oil Firms Guilty Of Price Fixing

BALTIMORE (AP) — A U.S. District Court jury has convicted five independent oil companies, their trade association and its executive director of conspiring to fix the price of 17 billion gallons of gasoline sold from New York to Virginia worth $1 billion.

The jury women handed up its verdict Tuesday after five days of deliberations in the 312-month trial.

New Fire Fee At South Haven Is Compromise

BY TOM BENNER
South Haven Correspondent
SOUTH HAVEN — City officials have agreed to roll back part of a proposed increase in the millage charged South Haven township for fire protection services, township officials revealed during a public hearing last night.

At the same time, however, the city has put the township on notice that it intends to increase the millage rate by at least one-third in 1978.

Township officials objected to a city proposal in June to increase the rate from its previous three mills on assessed valuation to two mills on state equalized valuation (SEV), saying the previous contract contains a clause requiring at least one year's notice of any change in the rate. The contract expired

June 30.

The three mills on assessed valuation last year generated about $19,900 while the two mills on SEV would have produced approximately $34,000.

The previous charge on the basis of assessed valuation was the equivalent to 1.25 mills on SEV, according to supervisor James Schnake.

City and township officials have compromised on a rate of 1.5 mills on SEV for the next year. It will produce about $28,000.

"We understand that the city's costs are increasing, but we need advanced notice to be able to plug it into our budget," said Schnake, noting the township developed its budget last spring.

City manager Paul Shuron, in offering the compromise rate, noted that "our request (for two mills) was not a capricious one, but reflective of the cost of doing business."

Sharon noted that the city's fire department budget this year will be about $186,000 and that approximately 28 percent of the fire alarms are in South Haven township.

Sharon told the township board that it can expect a rate of at least 2.5 mills on SEV when the contract comes up for consideration in 1978. That rate would place the annual cost near $42,000.

Township officials said they probably would not give the city a share of the state's reimbursement for the single business tax as it did last year. The township gave the city an additional $4,175 above its contracted rate last year feeling a "moral obligation" since valuation had decreased by over $1 million with the end of the personal property tax.

Residents attending the hearing last night said they don't believe the township should share the reimbursement since it isn't mentioned in the contract.

Official action on the millage rate is expected at the township's regular monthly meeting next Wednesday.

'Racist' Research Projects Defended

BIRMINGHAM, England (AP) — A British winner of the Nobel Prize for Medicine defended the right of scientists to explore the theory that blacks are intellectually inferior to whites.

Sir Andrew Huxley told the British Association for the Advancement of Science Wednesday night that if racial characteristics are indeed inherited genetically, "then preaching that they are not... will lead to expectations among the less well endowed which will never be fulfilled."

Huxley compared attacks on American physicist William B. Shockley and others who conducted and publicized such research to the objections a century ago against Charles Darwin's theory of evolution by those who found it unpalatable to have a common ancestry with apes.

He said the challenge to Darwin was made against Darwin's scientific evidence. But today, he said, anyone who suggests there is evidence of a relationship between genetic factors and intellectual achievement is denounced as a racist or a fascist.

"Attempts of this kind to subordinate scientific judgment to political ends are misguided, even from a strictly practical point of view," Huxley said. "Policies based on untrue assumptions are likely to lead sooner or later to disaster."

Science, he said, should be based on "what actually happens in the world, independent of what we wish or hope."

Huxley, who shared the 1963 Nobel Prize for Medicine for work on nerve cells, said he was "horrified" when the German-born British psychologist Hans Eysenck was denounced by colleagues and assaulted by students for writing a book in 1971 reporting research on genetic inheritance by others.

He also noted that Shockley, the Stanford University professor who won the 1956 Nobel Prize for Physics, had been buried from campuses in Britain and the United States for espousing scientific views interpreted as racist.

middle class suburbs where the children have so many material and cultural advantages. Is it fair to place this extra burden on the children least able to carry it?

Another objection we have is that Washington school was the only school to be chosen for classroom cutbacks. It is extremely difficult to decide what is fair when the figures of enrollment Mr. Aldrich used at the school board meeting were so "flexible." It is alarming to discover that the figures published by our superintendent was deemed not final or accurate, and yet these very same figures formed the basis for the decision to cut back the Washington school classes. It certainly gave us the feeling that his recommendations were arbitrary and purely based on his unexplained desire to close this school.

In addition to listening to Mr. Aldrich, we have read his written recommendation which states "Washington is marketable as opposed to other city schools." Since when do "marketable buildings" take precedence over the "children" that attend this neighborhood school?

We further object to this decision because it was published after the community voted for additional school taxes. We find this to be a very deceiving maneuver on the school board's part to wait until you have the community's support before you allow the bad news to be told.

In summary, we object to the fact that one school was singled out for classroom cuts, and we object to the obvious idea that Washington be closed because schools with a lower enrollment. If our facts are inaccurate, it is imperative that you publish a strong and clear statement to the city residents and more specifically to the local realtors who might be inclined to discourage people from purchasing homes in our area.

"Thank you for taking the time to consider these deep root concerns. Mr. & Mrs. Joseph Richetti 500 Hatch street St. Joseph

Chilean Paper Pans Big Apple

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — One of Santiago's leading newspapers has warned Chileans bound for the United States that much of Manhattan is unsafe.

A writer for another local paper reported that New York City for the Spanish-speaking foreigner is a "world of cement and loneliness."

El Mercurio, Chile's oldest newspaper, claimed that one in every 10 Chileans who have lived in Manhattan have been assaulted or robbed. But it did not give the source of its statistics.

The article, titled "Nueva York Violenta," was accompanied by a map of "non-recommended areas." They were:

Between lower 6th Avenue and the West Side highway — "a zone of dicks and ships."

Greenwich Village "around Washington Square."

Little Italy and Chinatown — "sections full of old buildings, bars, no-account hotels, drunks and drug addicts."

The lower West Side from 7th Avenue to the Hudson River and between 35th and 53rd streets — "bus terminals, stadiums, cabarets, street prostitution."

Broadway at 11 o'clock at night."

Harlem, 110th street to the north end of the island — "a black city within New York. Despite the presence of Columbia University and City College, it is closed for whites after 5 at night. Not even recommended for visiting by day... East Harlem completes the perimeter prohibited for pale faces, especially tourists. Disaster area in the recent blackout."

El Mercurio said "curiously" West 42nd Street, "the famous 'street of vice,' is relatively safe. A picturesque walk, exhibiting the sadness of human corruption, of homosexuals, dressed like chorus girls, clowns, cowboys and sailors. Irish police and storekeepers help prevent disturbances which might hurt business."

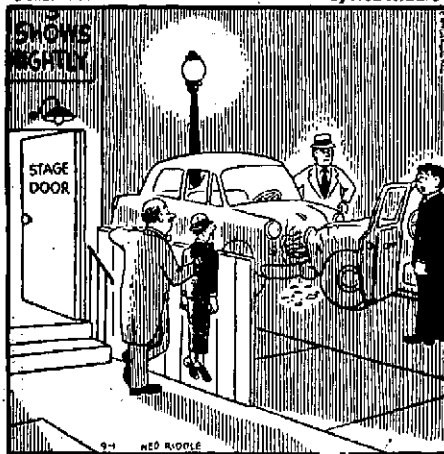

Chilean visitors to New York were advised to "follow this police instruction to the letter: 'Don't resist if attacked. Walk with head high and a serene expression. If you look like a victim, you have a greater chance of becoming one.' So whistle, even, if you can muster the breath."

Carmen Imperatore, a reporter for Las Ultimas Noticias, wrote that during a month's visit she found the city a "world of cement and loneliness."

Speaking Spanish was to be avoided, she said.

Today In History

Today is Thursday, Sept. 1st, the 244th day of 1977. There are 121 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1939, Germany invaded Poland. It was the beginning of World War II.

On this date:

In 1682, 100 English Quakers led by William Penn sailed for America.

In 1807, a court in Richmond, Va., acquitted former Vice President Aaron Burr of charges of treason.

In 1862, liquor rations were abolished in the U.S. Navy.

In 1945, Japan surrendered aboard the U.S. battleship Missouri at the end of World War II.

King George II to the throne.

Ten years ago: President Lyndon Johnson defended the policy of the controlled bombing of North Vietnam.

Five years ago: President Richard Nixon and Premier Tanaka of Japan reached agreement in Hawaii on short-term measures to reduce the huge U.S. trade deficit with Japan.

One year ago: Democratic Congressman Wayne Hays of Ohio resigned his seat in the house.

Today's birthdays: Former Defense Secretary Melvin Laird is 55 years old. Songwriter Harold Arlen is 77.

Thought for today: "You do not lead by hitting people over the head — that's assault, not leadership." — President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Priests Differ With Church

CHICAGO (AP) — There are sharp differences between the views about sex and marriage espoused by Roman Catholic priests in private counseling with parishioners here and the publicly aired church view, a survey shows.

The survey of 140 priests did not reflect the views of all priests in the Chicago Archdiocese, but did reflect a distinct gap between the official teachings of the church and what priests tell troubled persons who come to them for advice.

Said one priest who was surveyed: "The bishops do the talking but put us in the middle for answering it all."

Seventy-three of the priests surveyed said they do not publicly support the church's ban on artificial birth control. Even more — 87 per cent — said they do not support it in private counseling.

Although the church advises against masturbation, 60 per cent of those surveyed said they do not back that stand publicly, and 78 per cent said they do not support it in private counseling.

On premarital sex, 23 per cent said they do not support the church position publicly. But 38 per cent said they do not support it privately.

Fourteen per cent said they do not support publicly church warnings against extramarital sex. But 21 per cent said they do not support it privately.

As for homosexuality, 38 per cent said they do not support the Vatican's disapproval publicly, as opposed to 46 per cent privately.

Only 10 per cent of those surveyed said that they were greatly bothered by the gap between what they say publicly and what they say privately.

"I don't want to be a company man, but neither do I want to create my own personal brand of theology," one priest said.

On divorce and remarriage, 81 per cent said they make use of the "internal forum." In that practice, an individual priest voids a previous marriage if it cannot be proved null by a church tribunal.

Although the church frowns on providing Communion to those whose previous marriage has not been judged invalid, 58 per cent of those surveyed said that they occasionally or usually encouraged such persons to take Communion.
